AMERICANS FLEE WAR ZONE

General Election Stirs British

1400 SEEK SEATS IN CONTEST

New Premier Certain of Safe Parliament Majority, View

LLOYD GEORGE IN THICK OF BATTLE

Labor and Liberals Seen as Dangerous Element In Struggle

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Campaigning for the general elections to be held throughout the British Isles tomorrow, came to an end today, with many of the 1400 candidates in furious eleventh hour activity about their constituencies.

Although there is tremendous rivalry for parliamentary seats in all except a few isolated instances, it is generally agreed that Bonar Law's Conservatives are certain of a majority of between forty and fifty.

Labor is offering strenuous resistance, but it can elect only a hundred members at the outside and is now considered likely to get no more than 75 "in". The Asquith Liberals likewise are campaigning to the bitter end, but their 240 or 250 seats will not overthrow the Conservative majority.

Lloyd George's followers are taking their cut from their leader and are not fighting premier Bonar Law's choice. There will probably be less than fifty Lloyd George "Independents" elected.

Bonar Law spoke at Glasgow last night, Lloyd George at Denbigh while Winston Churchill had a stormy time with Communist hecklers at Dundee. The former colonial secretary is recovering from an operation for appendicitis and leave Lloyd George and Asquith, Earl Birkenhead and Viscount Grey spoke in other parts of the Isles.

Tomorrow electors will go to the polls and name 615 members of parliament. Of these thirteen will be from northern Ireland. Between fifty and sixty seats are uncontested. The Conservatives confidently expect to elect at least 358 members, a safe majority for the moment, although some which will leave Lloyd George and his followers with the balance of power. Should Bonar Law's party fail to get a majority, it is probable that Lloyd George would lend the support of his followers. Therefore, there seems no possibility whatever of the premier meeting defeat tomorrow and the elections are being viewed as a great sporting event.

UNION PACIFIC LOSSES FIGHT ON MERGER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Union Pacific, by a decision of the Interstate Commerce commission, today lost the first skirmish in the big battle growing out of the supreme court's decision divorcing the Central Pacific and the Southern Pacific railroads on the grounds that the combination violated anti-trust laws.

The Southern Pacific is seeking to have the Interstate Commerce commission take steps that would allow the merger with the Central Pacific, despite the court's decision. The Union Pacific, opposing this move, filed a motion asking immediate dismissal of the Southern Pacific's application to present its case to the commission.

The commission today denied the Union Pacific's motion, and hearings previously ordered for November 21 will proceed.

Whether the commission has jurisdiction to consider the Southern Pacific's application for control of the Central Pacific, or whether its application should be granted will be decided after these hearings.

Prepares for Term In Lower House By Cleaning Own Home

MRS. W. M. HUCK
Illinois, congresswoman-at-large, named in the recent election to fill out the unexpired term of her father, William E. Mason, who died over a year ago. Mrs. Huck immediately after her election began a house cleaning campaign, smilingly remarked that she would need the practice when she arrives in Washington. Mrs. Huck's greatest ambition is to launch legislation with a view of making war impossible except through a vote of the people.

INAUGURAL BALL FOR RICHARDSON IS PLAN

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 14.—Friend W. Richardson, governor-elect, is considering the first inaugural ball California has known for years when he assumes office next January 7.

Richardson said today that the women of the California press association of which he is president, are strongly urging the ball.

"I have the matter under advisement," says Richardson. "If I decide to have the ball it won't cost the state of California a cent. What is more, it will be a thoroughly democratic affair."

FEAR STEAMER LOST IN BIG TIDAL WAVE

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 14.—Agents of the South American Steamship company stated this afternoon that the liner Renaulco is safe and that it is expected to arrive at Coquimbo today. Previous dispatches from Coquimbo said it was feared the liner had been lost in a tidal wave.

COQUIMBO, Chile, Nov. 14.—Fears were felt here today for safety of the steamer Renaulco, bound from Antofagasta to Coquimbo, in the earthquake and tidal wave zone.

The steamer carried many notables and was due to have arrived yesterday. Repeated radio calls to her from stations along the Chilean coast failed to bring an answer.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 14.—Miss Anna A. Gordon, Evanston, Ill., was today elected world president of the W. C. T. U. to succeed the late Rosa Lynd, Countess of England. Miss Gordon is also president of the W. C. T. U. in the United States.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—The German cabinet headed by Chancellor Wirth has resigned. The resignation followed a German financial crisis and dissension in government and banking circles as to how the stabilization of the mark was to be brought about. The German government today sent a note to the allied reparations commission asking for a three or four-year moratorium and a foreign loan of a half billion gold marks.

Slow Georgia Ballot Count May Allow Woman to Enter Senate

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 14.—Mrs. W. H. Felton, the first woman United States senator may take her seat when Congress reconvenes in special session next Monday.

The "grand old lady of Georgia" probably will sit in the senate for a few days as a result of the slowness of certain Georgia counties in reporting their votes for Senator-elect Walter George, elected to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Tom Watson.

WEIRD MURDER CASE NEARING JURY HERE

Whether Manuel Lieva and Everett Nava will pay the penalty exacted by law for the killing of Estabel Saldana, La Habra, camouflage murder victim, will probably be decided before tonight, it was indicated today, as the trial in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court was nearing an end.

The defense had concluded its arguments, and Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley was enjoining the jury in a final plea. One of the strangest Mexican murder trials in the annals of the county was nearing a close.

Basing its case largely upon the alleged confession of Jose Carbajal, formerly a defendant in the murder charges, the prosecution had attempted to show that Lieva, angry because Saldana refused him a drink, had waited outside a house for an hour, and had beaten the deceased, a larger man, until he was dead.

Then seeking to cover the traces of the alleged murder, Mozley sought to prove, Lieva and Nava carried the body to the tracks of the Pacific Electric railway at Cypress street, La Habra, and left it there.

The body was struck by a trolley car a short time later. The absence of blood, railroad employees testified, excited their suspicions.

A dramatic touch was added to the proceedings late yesterday afternoon, when the grief stricken mother of Everett Nava, who throughout the trial had remained in rapt interest, arose, and in Spanish, shrieked a curse upon Carbajal, who had just finished his damning testimony.

"May he suffer the tortures of the damned for his lies," she wailed, as her emotions overcame her. "May he descend to the very depths of perdition."

It was not until the bailiff and other court officials had threatened to eject her, and her son, one of the defendants, had quieted her with words of commiseration, that the mother subsided.

POLICE SEEK THIRD WOMAN IN POISONING

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—A third woman was involved today in the alleged poisoning of fifteen persons who had taken out life insurance.

Besides Mrs. Tillie Klimek and Mrs. Nellie Strumer, held in the probe of the poisonings, authorities had under surveillance a third woman, friend of the two now held.

Three friends and relatives of the accused women have furnished evidence on which police will base their prosecution.

STATE ATTACKS TESTIMONY OF HAMMER GIRL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Surrounded by a mob of women, who threatened him with bodily harm, Armour Phillips, husband of the woman accused of the hammer murder, today fled across the lawn of the court house and took refuge in the hall of records.

(United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—That Clara Phillips' version of the "hammer murder" was a fabrication of her defense, was the charge of Deputy District Attorney Fricke in assaults upon the story from every angle in his last plea to the jury this afternoon.

Fricke demanded that Mrs. Phillips be sentenced to death for the murder of Mrs. Alberta Meadows.

"If the story Clara Phillips told accusing Mrs. Peggy Caffee of the murder is true," he exclaimed, "why was it kept secret till the very middle of the trial?"

"Do you believe that Mr. Aggeler, sworn public defender, if he had heard that Peggy Caffee was the murderess, would have kept silent?" he demanded.

Fricke then turned to Mrs. Phillips' alleged confession to her husband which was only a matter of record in the case through questions he asked Mrs. Phillips on the stand.

"You know," he told the jury, "the prosecution isn't permitted to call the husband of a defendant in a case like this. But when Armour Phillips drove that car to Pomona the night of July 12, he knew the crime had been committed—knew that his wife had killed Alberta Meadows."

Daring S. F. Bandits Get $2400 Loot In Bold Hotel Robbery

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—George W. Mullen, house detective for the Fairmont hotel, was shot and wounded, and Frank Perry, cashier of the hotel, was robbed of $2,400 today by three men near the entrance of the hotel.

Mullen and Perry were returning from a bank with the money. As they drew near the hotel the three men stopped them. Mullen reached for his gun, but was shot before he was able to open fire.

A satchel containing the money was snatched from Perry's hand and the trio fled.

Police posse started search immediately, but no arrests had been made nearly an hour after the robbery.

57 BUILDING SUPPLY MEN FACE TRIAL

S. F. Builders Exchange Members Accused of Violating Anti-Trust Laws.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Police Judge D. S. O'Brien today ordered held to answer to the superior court members of the San Francisco Builders exchange accused of violating the state anti-trust law known as the Cartwright Act.

His decision was rendered after long consideration of the case in which the builders exchange is accused of conspiring to control prices of building materials and of contracting in San Francisco.

Fifty-seven members of the exchange are the defendants involved. Specifically, they are charged with refusing supplies to contractors using union labor in an alleged attempt to foster the American plan of industrial organization here.

The charges were made by the San Francisco Building Trades council.

S. A. WILL MEET FULLERTON ON GRID NOV. 28

The football teams of Santa Ana and Fullerton high schools will play for the championship of the Orange league at Fullerton Tuesday, November 28, providing neither eleven is defeated during the rest of the league season.

That agreement was definitely announced today following a meeting of Orange league representatives here yesterday.

The winning team will enter the semi-finals for the championship of Southern California, the first game of which will be played Saturday, December 2.

The arrangement will result in a general readjustment of the Orange league grid schedule. Fullerton was scheduled to mingle with Orange high school on the 25th.

Orange county principals had tentatively set that date for Fullerton and Santa Ana to play off their scoreless tie of October 21 under an arrangement whereby Fullerton would play Orange and Santa Ana meet Huntington Beach both earlier in the week.

"Shorty" Smith, Fullerton coach objected to this decision. The Orange game, he declared, would be much harder for his men than the Huntington Beach affair would for Santa Ana.

After considerable discussion it was decided that the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach tilt would be played here Thursday, November 23. Orange and Fullerton probably will meet the same day. This will give the two contenders a week to prepare for the title contest.

Under the new agreement Santa Ana's league fray with Anaheim high school will be staged here Friday of this week rather than Saturday afternoon, it was announced.

The ground for the Santa Ana-Fullerton clash was decided by a flip of the coin. Fullerton won the toss and selected its own field. All seats will be numbered and reserved. Student tickets will be sold for 50 cents. Admission for the general public was set at 75 cents.

The Santa Ana and Anaheim 130-pound teams will play at Anaheim next Thursday night.

Foreigners In Constantinople Appeal to British For Aid

NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE ARE AT END

Allies Fortify Positions as Parley Comes to Sudden End

(United Press Leased Wire)
LONDON, Nov. 14.—Americans are preparing to evacuate orphanages in Constantinople because of the allied-Turkish crisis, according to official dispatches from that city today.

Belgian residents have asked the British authorities to provide means of evacuation in the event of necessity.

ATHENS, Nov. 14.—An unfirmed dispatch from Constantinople today said the allied high commissioners and Refet Pasha, Turkish commander, had broken off negotiations and that the British had hurriedly begun fortifying the city.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—Fresh demands were made by the Ankara government of Mustapha Kemal today as French and British diplomats sought to agree upon a united front at the Lausanne peace conference, now definitely set for November 20.

Turk envoys at Lausanne declared they would abandon the parley entirely if the allies, at a preliminary meeting formulated peace terms en bloc and tried to force these upon Turkey.

Britain and France, still at odds over the allied attitude at the forthcoming conference, had planned to hold a council of foreign ministers, including Italy and Belgium, at which terms should be drawn up for Turkish acceptance. The Turks have put the shoe on the other foot, announcing the allies must accept their terms or there will be no conference.

At the same time Near East relief dispatches told of an order that has gone out from Ankara, commanding all of the million Christians in Anatolia to evacuate within thirty days. Mindful of what happened at the expiration of the last Turkish ultimatum of this sort, sixty thousand Christians are fleeing in a panic from Anatolia, choking the roads in their flight.

Meanwhile, the situation in Constantinople itself is critical. Turkish and allied commanders are struggling for control of municipal affairs, with the Kemalists repeating their requests that the allies get their troops and warships out of the city and away from the straits. Co-operation in maintaining order in a city that is like a slumbering volcano, with internecine passions to flame into warfare at a moment's notice, has become impossible through Turkish truculence, French advisers at Constantinople report. The allies are less anxious than ever to impose martial law, fearing that would be a final signal for a clash with Turkish troops.

1000 JAPANESE FACE LOSS OF CITIZENSHIP

(United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Officials of the federal census bureau estimated today that approximately one thousand Japanese will lose their citizenship as the result of the supreme court decision holding that Japanese are not eligible to American citizenship.

Of this number, the ruling will come hardest to more than 300 Japanese who were given naturalization papers after they had served with the American forces during the World War.

At the present time the total number of Japanese nationals in this country is about 111,010.

FIRST ATHLETIC CLUB IS OPENED AT PARIS

PARIS, Nov. 14.—At last Paris has an athletic club. True, there are numerous athletic clubs in Paris. They are all called sporting clubs, but the Sporting de France, which opened its doors this week, is a sporting club with an eye for sport.

The average French sportsman looks upon his sporting club as a place to get a good dinner or an excellent cocktail, but he hardly expects a gymnasium, and he would never dare hope for a swimming pool. All these things this new organization has in its new building at No. 2 Rue de l'Elysee. The swimming pool will find no equal in Europe. The lanes for swimming races are marked in red tile on white.

SLEEPING MAN ROLLS INTO FIRE AND DIES

PHOENIX, Nov. 14.—Homer Williams, 22, of Collinsville, Tex., died at a local hospital from burns suffered when he rolled into a bonfire.

Williams and Fred Meckles were "beating" their way to California on a freight train, according to Meckles. Cold weather forcing them to get off the train at Gila Bend, the boys built a bonfire and after warming themselves fell asleep. During the night Williams rolled into the fire and his screams awakened Meckles.

AWAIT OPINION AS TO COUNTY HELP RULING

Whether Orange county's office help is to be reduced as the result of a decision entered in the supreme court October 10 rested today upon an opinion hourly expected by District Attorney A. P. Nelson from Attorney General U. S. Webb, at Sacramento.

If the attorney general rules that the supreme court decision covers a wider field than was contemplated when the action that brought about the decision was begun, a number of offices in this county, as well as in many other counties in the state, will be materially affected, even crippled, not only for the remainder of this year but for the succeeding four years, it was stated.

The case that was taken to the supreme court was begun in San Diego county, where action was brought to prevent the auditor of that county from honoring warrants for the pay of an advisory board appointed by the county assessor under an act of the last legislature. When the case came to the supreme court the particular point was decided adversely to the advisory board, and in addition to that point what may prove to be a sweeping decision on the compensation of all county officers was rendered.

Finding Awaited

In brief, the attorney general may find that the wording of the decision is such that decisions hitherto held mandatory on county authorities have been set aside, and that a county officer during his four years of office must run the office without a dollar's increase for office help.

One of the decisions under which county offices have been conducting their business for the past fourteen years had its inception in this county. Cal D. Lester was county auditor. A county government act was passed giving number of officers of this county additional deputies. One of these deputies, Carl Newman, brought an amicable action against Lester to compel him to honor warrants for a new deputyship. Curtis D. Wilbur, then a superior judge of Los Angeles, sat in the case, and ruled against the deputies. The case was taken to the appellate court, which is the court half way between the superior court and the supreme court, and the decision there reversed Wilbur and established the rule that when an office that had a deputy was given additional deputies, the addition of deputies would not be construed as being a raise in compensation of the principal of the office.

This decision has been considered the law of this state ever since the decision in the Newman case.

Follows Same Lines

Now comes the San Diego case. Judge Wilbur is now a justice of the supreme court, and the decision, written by Justice Lawler, follows exactly the same lines followed by Wilbur's decision in the superior court here.

If the attorney general rules that the decision does reach out into all county offices, as well as into the advisory board situation, nearly every office at the courthouse will be affected at least for the month of December.

If the attorney general so rules, the office until January 1 must go back to the compensation and office help basis allowed when the terms began four years ago. After January 1, 1923, the basis would be the county government act of 1919. Even that will call for a decided set-back. Officers entering terms in January must conduct their offices for the next four years at exactly the allowances for help made by the last legislature.

As seen by those familiar with the situation, this would mean that the business of this county would be badly crippled, for the county's business is growing faster, probably, than is that of any other county in the state that has no county charter. Counties with charters are not affected.

The recorder's office alone would not be hit. It goes on a folio basis the first of the year, which will give the office a chance to adjust its help according to the amount of work it has to do.

District Attorney Nelson has wired the attorney general for instructions.

He possessed the uncanny faculty of being able to pick out his friends' cars by the whirr of the motor and knew the various makes of automobiles. He had been in office six years.

Many Children Show the Lack of these Food Essentials — Lime, Iron and Vitamin

No Bill of Fare Affords Complete Nourishment (for either Adults or Children) If It Does Not Contain the Iron, Lime and Vitamin for Blood, Bone and Nerve Building

Thousands of children are pale and anemic and tottering about with weak knees and wobbly spines that will handicap them for life because of impoverished and denatured foods lacking in essential minerals and vitamins.

Milk, butter, lard, fine flour bread, corn meal, and many other common foodstuffs are not sufficient in nourishment for children. If a growing child is to stand squarely on his feet, hold his head erect and look the world straight in the face, his food must contain solid material for the frame-work on which a strong body can be built.

Give the Children Battle Creek Foods

The Battle Creek Food experts have developed several foods that are unusually rich in food iron, food lime and vitamins especially required by growing children.

Note a list of these foods here. Get them not only for the children, but for the whole family. Everyone will like these foods for their palatableness—and still more for the new life and health they produce.

NEWCOMERS PRAISE S. A. AND COUNTY

Declaring that Santa Ana and Orange county are "the best spots" in the state of California, Nelson Gorman and William A. Meyer, both of Los Angeles, today were contemplating moving their families here December 1 and establishing permanent residences.

Discussing the possibilities of sugar, which product he is interested in, Gorman said that the importers of a golden opportunity.

He bases his assertion on the report that there is little surplus sugar to remain in Cuba and that Europe is again buying heavily.

"Cuba has only about 400,000 tons available from last year," said F. L. Meyer, of the Los Angeles executive offices of the American-Panama Development company.

"Sugar consumption in the United States, this year, it is estimated, may total 5,500,000 tons, which compares with a pre-war average of 3,800,000. According to analytical experts, the only reason the United States enjoyed low sugar prices and had an abundance of sugar during the past two years was because European countries were too poor to buy as much sugar as they needed."

Gorman and Meyer have opened an office at 412 W. H. Spurgeon building, as representatives of the American-Panama Development company. The company has a model refinery at Progresso, Chiriqui, province of Panama, and the representatives have samples of sugar and hardwoods produced on the company's 18,000 acre property. Gorman is known to a number of local residents through a manufacturing proposition he presented to the Chamber of Commerce.

CREDIT MEN IN MOVE FOR 300 MEMBERS

With 300 members as its goal, the Orange County Credit Men's association today instituted a membership drive throughout the county, Robert L. Conway, president and manager of the association, announced.

Decision to make the membership campaign was reached at a meeting of the directors held last night at James's cafe here. Representatives from Anaheim, Fullerton, Orange, Huntington Beach and Santa Ana were present.

It was pointed out today by Conway that with a membership of 300 persons costs to the individual members would be less, as fees would be eliminated and regular monthly dues established. At the same time the service will be extended, Conway said.

The association now has a membership of 200, of which 150 are located in Santa Ana. Extension of the association and its service to all parts of the county was planned at the time of the inception of the organization, but operations since the association was created has been confined mostly to Santa Ana.

The directors voted to hold their next meeting at Anaheim December 11.

Conway announced today that preliminary steps for the organization of a state association will be taken here next Saturday night when managers from associations at Glendale, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, Long Beach, Pomona, San Bernardino, Riverside and San Diego will meet at James's cafe at 7 p. m. to discuss such a plan.

BIG DRIVE ON BOOTLEGGERS NEARS

DRYS PLAN FETE TO HAIL WRIGHT LAW SUCCESS AS WAR ON RUM MEN PLANNED

Declarations by Attorney S. M. Davis, active in the Orange county campaign in behalf of the Wright act, that a public victory celebration probably would be held here shortly, and by District Attorney A. P. Nelson that he is ready to institute an intensive campaign to enforce strict observance of the Volstead law, were developments here today in connection with the passage of the enforcement measure.

The district attorney asserted that as soon as the secretary of state declared the act carried, he would begin an enforcement campaign that would drive bootleggers from the county.

The secretary will not be in position to make official declaration until after the official returns are reported into his office. The enforcement measure will become effective five days after such announcement. District Attorney Nelson said today that the law probably would become effective about December 1.

Plan Celebrations. Davis stated that discussions were already under way looking toward big ratification meetings in various parts of the state and that Santa Ana and other Orange county cities probably would also arrange for a jubilee.

In connection with his plans to institute an intensive campaign to rid the county of illicit intoxicants, Nelson further asserted that if city authorities refused to clean up places within city limits he would exercise authority given him under the Wright act and take the matter in his own hands.

He also issued a warning to property owners that he would strictly enforce the abatement act of 1915, which makes it possible for him to place under lock and key for a year any piece of property upon which illicit liquors are manufactured or sold.

"The Wright act places authority in the hands of the district attorney to call to his assistance every peace officer in the county and cities of the county," said Nelson. "It gives him authority to prosecute in cities if city officers are lame in enforcement of the act. Heretofore the district attorney has not had that authority."

To Make County Dry. "It is my ambition to make Orange county bone dry and I can realize that ambition if the citizens of the county, as well as the officers, will lend their hearty and sincere cooperation."

"Property owners must be careful about leasing their holdings to men who use it for the manufacture of liquor. Any case of this character coming to my attention will be prosecuted to the fullest extent, and where evidence is produced proving conclusively that an owner had knowledge of the purposes to which his premises were used, such property will be put under lock and key for a year."

Nelson pointed out that under the Wright act, every peace officer becomes an enforcement officer and every court a court for the trial of offenders. He said that under such conditions it should be possible quickly to eliminate the bootleggers.

In commenting on the success of the act, Davis said today that he had been surprised at the big vote cast for it, as he had anticipated defeat.

"The favorable vote evidences that a majority of the voters of the state were loyal to the government and believe in supporting the national constitution," he said.

Held up by the absence of a witness for the defense, the second trial of E. C. Woodruff, charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, scheduled to take place before Superior Judge Z. B. West today, was continued to November 28.

Despite persistent efforts to subpoena him, officials had been unable to locate G. C. Graham, Long Beach man, who, it was testified at Woodruff's first trial, sold Woodruff the "sweet" cider which, the state alleged, caused him to drive in a manner that resulted in a collision in Santa Ana canyon, where the defendant was arrested.

When Woodruff was tried several weeks ago, the jury disagreed after more than twelve hours deliberation.

CALL FOR BOND VOTE MEETING WITH DELAY

Because District Attorney A. P. Nelson informed the board of education that he had not been able to complete the resolution calling for a $400,000 school bond election here, F. L. Andrews, secretary of the board, expressed doubt today as to whether the board would hold a special meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Andrews said that if the resolution was not completed tomorrow, the board's action in the matter would be delayed until a meeting of the board November 22.

The board requested the district attorney to formulate the school bond election resolution at last week's meeting with instructions to present it to the board for approval and action this week.

The resolution was to call for an election on a $400,000 school bond issue. Funds so created were proposed to be used in erecting a new junior high school in the southern part of the city, and the building of grammar schools where population of Santa Ana indicates the greatest need.

Ryan died Sunday night at the Community hospital here, where he has been since he sustained his injuries, the previous Monday. Testimony showed that the deceased was struck in the chest by a chain from a drill.

The dead man was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., but had lived in Brea about eight years before making his home at Huntington Beach. He was well liked among his fellow workers, was a member of Oil Workers' Union No. 123 and was a trustee for one year.

The banquet hall is to be beautifully decorated, and each person is to wear some insignia, emblematic of the society to which he belongs. Some of the best talent in the city has been procured to furnish the evening's entertainment. It is also planned that an outline for future activities of the council be presented at this meeting.

Saturday night will be in the nature of an "open house" a social function, to which the young people will bring their friends. A fine program has been provided.

Sunday night a young people's rally has been arranged. The Rev. W. A. Betts, new pastor of the church, will occupy the pulpit. A section in the auditorium will be reserved for the young folk.

ReceptionsLos Angeles Guests
Are Incentive for Round of Gayety

A delightful round of festivities was brought to a close today by the return to Los Angeles of Mrs. George Remington and her daughter, Mrs. Blanche Remington who have been house-guests for the past week of Mr. and Mrs. Frank True at their North Main street home.

Members of the family connection welcomed the Angelinos and showered them with attentions during their stay. One of the pleasant affairs was the luncheon given at the "Cat 'N' Fiddle" with Mrs. M. K. Flint as hostess. One of the pretty private diningrooms of the popular and attractive little place was reserved for the party. At the charmingly appointed table with its clever arrangement of var-colored dahlias, places were indicated for Mrs. Remington sr. and Mrs. Remington jr., Mrs. Hattie Kimball, Mrs. John Kimball, Mrs. Anna Mitchell, Mrs. Will Kimball, Miss Marian Kimball, Mrs. Frank True, Mrs. George Kimball, Mrs. Paul Kimball and Mrs. Phillips.

A delicious course luncheon was served under the personal supervision of Mrs. Chestnut. Other equally charming affairs given for the visitors and calling together members of the family and close friends included a tea with which Mrs. True entertained, a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Hattie Kimball, a tea at the Will Kimball home and a happy family picnic Sunday at Orange county park which was thoroughly enjoyed by the Los Angeles guests who saw our beauty spot for the first time.

Oriental of Haoma Sanctorum are completing plans for another of their social dances to be given at Odd Fellows' hall. The night of November 23 has been named and all Orientals and their friends are cordially invited to attend. "Good music and a pleasant evening" has been chosen as the motto of the committee arranging for the dance.

Two-In-One Class

Hostess house of the First Methodist church was the scene of a gay party last night when Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Baker entertained the Two-In-One class of the church.

Briefly were the business matters discussed and then came an interesting program of vocal solos and speaking, including a talk by the new pastor of the church, the Rev. Will A. Betts, who with Mrs. Betts and their young daughter were honor guests.

Merry games and delicious refreshments added to the pleasure of the occasion and there were over forty members and guests present.

Ebbl Bazaar to Add
Nice Sum to Fund
For Clubhouse

With minor business matters disposed of, the ways and means committee of Ebbl club with Mrs. Samuel W. Nau, chairman, today was ready to give a partial report of the success of the bazaar held Thursday and Friday of last week in the salesroom of the Reid Motor company.

The building fund was augmented by $900 as a result of the bazaar and that sum may be increased materially when the music houses of the city turn in commissions realized from sales of instruments made at the bazaar.

In addition will be the sum of $1600 pledged by men of the city who have decided to become patrons of the "bank" opened by Ebbl husbands at the big fair and which will be continued indefinitely it was stated today.

"Success was due to the material support accorded each section leader by her members," declared Mrs. Nau in commenting upon the bazaar.

"Co-operation seemed to be the keynote of the whole affair, and non-section members organized for the same faithful work as did those who were identified with sections. Non-section members not only arranged for their booth but they also worked indefatigably in preparing the room and arranging decorations."

"The valiant and earnest work of the members had an added effect in seeming to cement the bonds even closer and the delightful bringing together of the forces of Ebbl offered a splendid social phase."

Community Players
To Hold Open Meeting

Do you want to work with the Community Players?

Are you interested in knowing what they are doing in preparation for a new play?

Are you a member of the organization and perhaps a member in name only?

No matter how you answer the question you are extended a cordial invitation to meet at the Junior high school studio tomorrow night at 7 o'clock and talk over "The Yellow Jacket," which is the next vehicle for the talents of the players. The production committee will hold an open meeting with the members of the cast present that all manner of things pertaining to the play and its production may be discussed in full—a case of "open covenants, openly arrived at."

On the production committee are vice president and chairman of membership, casting, costume, scenery, decoration, entertainment, library, music, publicity and ways and means committees.

Ladies' Guild

Meeting in the morning hours at the parish hall of the Church of the Messiah, members of the Woman's Guild of the church will spend a busy day tomorrow. Mrs. Byler, chairman of the hostess committee and her workers, will serve luncheon at noon.

Thanksgiving Barrel
Is Prominent at
Junior High School

"Drop a potato!" admonishes a placard swaying above a barrel in the big lobby of the Junior high school and long before noon today the barrel was over half full. With afternoon contributions from the pupils, it was expected to be full and running over by evening.

"This Thanksgiving barrel which will bring happiness to many a hungry hearth when the great American holiday rolls around and its presence in the school is just a reminder to fortunate young people that the city has others less fortunate," stated Mrs. Iva M. Webber, vice-principal of the school.

Mrs. Webber declared that other days would be recognized. Tomorrow, for instance, will be "onion day," while in rapid succession will follow "jelly-jam day," "apple-orange day," and finally "clothing day."

Why the Nation Demands Calumet

—because it has more than the ordinary leavening strength; it raises millions of bakings every day to a light perfectly baked perfection that cannot be equaled.

—because it contains white-of-egg—the vital element that gives the housewives protection against using a baking powder that has lost its original leavening strength. It assures light, tender, tasteful things every time you bake.

—because it is economical—pure, sure and wholesome.

That's why the sale of Calumet is over 150% greater than that of any other baking powder.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

FACTS ON PORT TO BE GIVEN AT HEARING

In anticipation of presenting to Major E. D. Ardrey, of Los Angeles, division engineer of the war department, concrete facts showing possibilities of commercial shipping in and out of Orange county harbor, representative men of Orange county are preparing information that will be of service in final decision of the chief army engineer with reference to whether the county project should receive support from the national government, it was learned today.

The hearing will be held at the city hall here at 10 a. m., Wednesday of next week, with Major Ardrey in charge. The hearing is the result of provision in the river and harbors bill for a survey and investigation of the county harbor as to whether it is in line for further development by appropriation from the national government.

Port Lines Established. Harbor lines have been established by the government and the present activity marks the third time that the government has been interested in the enterprise to the extent of making provision for a survey, it was stated.

It is the hope of harbor boosters to procure an appropriation for a jetty on the east side of the entrance and an appropriation for further dredging of the channel, if possible. It is declared that with the east jetty built, and with deepening of the county channel sufficient to permit vessels of deep draft to enter the harbor, commercial business could be quickly developed.

The county harbor commission, according to Linn L. Shaw, chairman, has compiled some valuable data for submission at the hearing. This, it is expected, will be supplemented by other information that will be brought forward at the hearing.

Huff Active. D. Eymann Huff, president of the Orange County Harbor association, today stated that he was preparing to consult members of the board of directors with reference to having the association represented at the hearing.

He declared that the meeting is to be one of the most important ever held in connection with the harbor project, by reason of the fact that improvements made by the county and the city of Newport Beach have been of such character as to impress upon the government authorities the faith this community has in the enterprise.

The condition at this time is far more favorable than it was on the occasion of previous investigations, Huff pointed out. He said that it was important that a large number of representative men of the county be present at the hearing, and anticipated that the interest in the harbor would result in the presence of a large group of influential citizens of the county.

STEALING RAIL RIDE COSTS MAN HIS LIFE

MERCED, Calif., Nov. 14.—One of three men who were riding between two coaches on the Southern Pacific train number 109, was killed and his body badly mutilated in the railroad yards here late yesterday afternoon. The victim, in alighting from the train, caught his foot in the trucks, and in attempting to free himself, swung beneath the cars, according to Albert Lostato, who witnessed the tragedy.

14 UNDER ARREST IN BIG S. F. DRY RAID

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Fourteen men, many prominent, were under arrest here today in connection with efforts of prohibition agents to cut off what they claim is one of the main sources of supply to bootleggers. Those arrested include Clinton Mason of the Mason By-Products company of Sausalito, operating a large distillery, and Henry Carr, cantor at a local synagogue.

McADOO AUTO STOLEN. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—While William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, was admiring cars at the auto show last night, someone took a fancy to his own big machine. Edward Flaherty, McAdoo's chauffeur, reported the theft to the police.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color, 15c and 30c.—Adv.

PLAN SHIFT AS TO GARBAGE HAULING

Garbage collection in Santa Ana may be metropolitanized in the immediate future, with collections made in the business district at night, it became known today, following disclosures at the city council meeting last night that in order to take care of increasing territory and the quantity of garbage a night crew must be put on or an additional truck added to the service.

W. W. Chandler, sanitary inspector, announced that something must be done to relieve a situation that was growing worse day by day, with the building of numerous new residences in the city. He called attention to the fact that a garbage crew working one shift a day could not take care of the work.

It was suggested that a night crew be engaged, and that the present garbage truck do sixteen-hour instead of eight-hour duty. Street Superintendent Edward Dahl, who has charge of the vehicle equipment of the city, was directed to put an extra crew in service as soon as possible.

Urges L. A. Rule Here. Pointing out that in Los Angeles, business houses placing garbage out for collection must tie the tops of garbage cans and that the cans must be washed and kept clean, Chandler suggested that such a rule be adopted for Santa Ana, particularly in the business district.

Reference was made to the fact that night collections in the business district would eliminate the necessity for the transportation of the foul-smelling accumulations through the business districts in the day time.

Application of W. F. Reynolds for permission to place an advertising sign at the corner of Fifth and Main streets was referred to a committee composed of W. A. Greenleaf and J. W. Tubbs.

Petition of residents on West Bishop and West Highland streets for opening of a street between these two streets, from Flower to Fifth, was referred to the committee of the whole. Objection was made by the council to the lines proposed for the new street. Twenty-two of the twenty-seven property owners on the two streets signed the petition.

Map Approved. Map of a subdivision on East First street, Tustin, opened by James E. Neill, was submitted by Dan Thomas and was approved.

W. F. Heathman, city recorder, asked for and was given a two weeks' leave of absence. Heathman said he had not had a vacation in two years and that he desired to absent himself from the city for at least two weeks. Justice J. B. Cox will hold court for him when it is necessary, Heathman said.

Resolution of intention to pave one block on East Walnut street was adopted.

A resolution was adopted proposing the vacating of a portion of Maple street and an alley adjoining. Hearing on the proposed abandonment of the street and alley was set for Monday evening, December 4.

The expected resignation of Sam Jernigan, sheriff-elect, as city marshal did not materialize. Jernigan said today that he would present his resignation to the council at its meeting next Monday evening.

8 S. A. FOLK ATTEND COLLEGE IN OREGON

Santa Ana has sent eight out of the seventeen students from Orange county now attending Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis, Ore., according to word received here today.

Arthur B. Perkins, a senior in agriculture and a member of Delta Kappa fraternity, is active on the campus. He was editor of the humorous department of the Oregon Countryman last year, and was also on The Beaver staff of last year. While attending the last summer session he took part in a water carnival held at Corvallis, winning the fancy dive and sprint race. He has also made a good showing on the varsity track squad. Archie T. Perkins, his twin brother, is also registered as a vocational student in agriculture, but hopes to complete the four-year degree course. On completing college they intend to develop property owned by their father in Arizona.

Vernon P. Jenkins and his brother, George H. Jenkins, are both registered as sophomores in agriculture. They are members of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, and Vernon is sophomore yell leader. Other students registered from Santa Ana are Edith M. Alsbach, senior in home economics; Ivan R. Elliott, freshman in mechanical engineering and pledged to Theta Nu Phi fraternity; Robert L. Lehnardt, sophomore in agriculture; and Horace T. Strong, who is a former student at Pomona, but now registered at Corvallis as a junior in agriculture, and who is also a pledge to Delta Kappa fraternity.

Subdivision Activity Brings Problem as to Money for Piping

With paving and new subdivisions being developed in all parts of the city, maintenance of a supply of pipe for water extensions, and money with which to buy the pipe, has become a serious matter, according to a report made to the city council last night by Walter Wray, water superintendent.

He declared that the only solution to the problem of keeping the water mains and laterals ahead of paving, and meeting demands of new subdivisions is to vote a bond issue and raise money that will make it possible to buy in large quantities and keep a large quantity of pipe on hand.

He pointed out that money from the water department had been used in buying pipe, but that the demand for new work was such that receipts from this source were not sufficient for the department to keep pace with the developments.

Council members had nothing to offer in the way of a solution.

HUNT 2 GIRLS IN 'SLUMBER STABBING'

Two girls, one of them a widow, and two young men, companions of the women in the case, were still being sought by sheriff's attaches today, in connection with the slumber stabbing of which Edward Bastillos, Delhi, was the victim early yesterday morning. Bastillos, badly cut, but on the road to recovery, claims that he is unable to furnish the clue as to the identity of his would-be murderers. He says that he was asleep when he was first stabbed, and that he did not recognize any of them.

Opposing this theory was a blood-stained hat, and a coat found near the injured man when officers reached the scene yesterday. The coat, which evidently belonged to a young man, bore a knife slit in the arm, and blood stains surrounding it.

This, sheriff's men claim, indicates that the victim had engaged in a struggle before he succumbed to the knife strokes. Supporting this theory was the fact that Bastillos' watch bore a dent, caused by a knife, and the light knife believed to have caused the dent was found nearby.

Authorities seek to question the two girls, who lived in the house with Bastillos. It was understood that Bastillos had forbidden them to entertain two young men in the house. It was these two young men that were being sought by authorities. Meanwhile, Bastillos, due, physicians declare, to his sturdy constitution, will recover from his injuries, despite the fact that he lost a great amount of blood, and that two of the wounds were near his heart.

GRAPES SENT EAST AT LOSS, IS CLAIM

LODI, Nov. 14.—"If all the grapes shipped in the past two weeks had remained on the vines, the growers of the district would be just as well off," according to E. A. Humphrey, manager of the Earl Fruit company. According to Humphrey and other prominent shippers, quantities of the grapes shipped in the past two weeks have been shipped at a loss to the growers.

The rain of the past twenty-four hours ending this morning at 7 o'clock amounted to 1.61 inches and put an end to all shipping of grapes for this year. Less than 50 per cent of the grapes have been shipped. There are several thousand crates of grapes picked and standing in the sheds which will be shipped out today and tomorrow if sufficient cars arrive.

Prices yesterday were a trifle higher than last week, but do little more than to pay the costs of harvesting, preparing for markets and shipping.

BEACH CITY IN PIER CONDEMNATION SUIT

The city of Newport Beach, through its attorney, Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana today had on file in superior court here a suit against the Southern Pacific Railroad company to condemn what is known as the old Southern Pacific wharf at the beach city, bonds for the purchase of which for conversion into an amusement pier were recently voted. The suit was filed merely to satisfy a technical formality, it was understood.

LENIENCE ASKED BY MAN IN AUTO THEFT

Attired in the now famous peon pants and wearing a Valentino cologne, Walter Sheets, convicted by a jury of attempted grand larceny, applied for probation. Superior Judge Z. B. West set the hearing for Friday at 9:30 a. m. Sheets was found guilty last week of the attempted theft of an automobile, belonging to A. J. Haas, at Newport Beach. The jury was out only a half hour, when the verdict was returned.

SLIGHT CHANGE ORDERED IN ORDINANCE

With a slight change in the boundaries of the industrial district to conform to objections made at the hearing held last Friday night, the ordinance proposing industrial, business and residence zones for Santa Ana last night was given its first reading by the city council and referred back to the attorney, as is customary in action on ordinances.

The change in boundaries eliminates a section in the north end of the industrial district situated north of Seventeenth and Dorman streets and makes the northern boundary line Dorman street instead of Twentieth. A change also was made in the east line from Fruit street south to Fourth street, the line now passing directly east of the site of the new laundry on East Fourth street.

There was no discussion on the ordinance last night. It probably will be given second reading at the meeting of the council next Monday evening.

Changes Made Possible. Provision is made that improvements existing at the time of adoption may continue, and that upon petition of any property owner changes may be made in the boundary lines or permission may be given for erection of a class of building or introduction of a class of business in a district in which such enterprises are restricted. Such action can be taken, however, only by adoption of an ordinance. Where the board deems it necessary, a hearing may be called for consideration of facts concerning a building or business to be erected in a district restricted against such building or business.

For District No. 4, the residence district, it is provided "that no building, structure or improvement shall be erected, constructed or established which is designed, arranged or intended to be occupied or used for any purpose other than a family dwelling or for other dwellings, tenements, hotels, lodging or boarding houses, churches, private clubs, public or semi-public institutions of an educational, philanthropic or eleemosynary nature, hospitals and sanitariums, and the usual accessories to any of such buildings or purposes, including private garages; that no building, structure or improvement shall be used in said District No. 4, for any other purpose, business, trade or calling than those specified.

No. 2 is the business district and it is provided "that no building, structure or improvement shall be erected, constructed, established, altered or enlarged which is designed, arranged or intended to be occupied or used for any purpose other than a store or shop for the conduct of wholesale or retail business, a place of amusement, an office or offices, studios, conservatories, dancing academies, carpenter shop, cleaning and dyeing works, paintings, paper hanging and decorating store, dressmaking, millinery store, photograph gallery, plumbing shop, furniture store, roofing or plastering establishment, tailor, tinsmith, undertaker, upholsterer, furniture store, dry goods store, and stores for the wholesale and retail sale of merchandise of all kinds and descriptions, commercial garages, and other similar enterprises or institutions, or for any purpose permitted by this ordinance; that no building, structure, or improvement shall be used in said District No. 2 for any other purposes, business, trade or calling than those specified."

Industrial Districts. Districts Nos. 1 and 3 are for industrial, No. 1 being in the east part of the city along the railroad tracks, and No. 3 being in the west part of the city, First street on the south, Hickey on the north, Western on the east and Sullivan street on the west. Provision is made that "any building, structure or improvement may be erected, constructed, established, altered or enlarged in either without restriction as to its design, arrangement or intended use or purpose, provided such building, structure or improvement, or the use or purpose thereof, is not prohibited by law or ordinance now in force or which may hereafter be enforced."

Violation of the provisions of the ordinance is punishable by a fine of not more than $500, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or both.

P. E. FIGHTS BACK IN $25,000 CRASH CASE

General denial of the charges contained in the suit for $20,000 damages, filed here recently by Love Johnston, as a result of an accident at the Cypress crossing, December 9, 1921, was contained in an answer which the Pacific Electric railway had on file here today.

The answer denies that Mrs. Johnston sustained injuries sufficient to warrant a payment of $20,000, and further states that she was not operating the car in a careful manner at the time the collision occurred.

The Pacific Electric further asserts that J. P. Miller, who was engaged to drive the car for Mrs. Johnston, did not exercise due care in approaching the crossing.

FATE OF RAID CASE WOMAN'S DAMAGE SUIT IN BALANCE

Argument On Demurrer to Determine If Mitchell, Tubbs Must Fight

PLAINTIFF REBUFFED

Loses First Round In Action for $25,000; History of Row Recalled

Whether John G. Mitchell and J. W. Tubbs, city councilmen, will have to defend themselves in the suit in which Mrs. Lionel Roberts, formerly of Balboa and now of Compton, asks of them $25,000 damages as a result of her arrest here on the night of June 4, 1921, at the hands of a detective and local officers, on a charge of being an inmate of a house of questionable reputation, will be determined Friday in the court of Superior Judge Z. B. West, it was expected today.

Clyde Bishop, special city counsel, is preparing to argue on that day, a demurrer to an amended complaint, in which the two councilmen are charged with responsibility for the employment of the detective who directed a raid on the residence at 1116 East Third street which a negro couple occupied and in which Mrs. Roberts was taken into custody.

Woman Pays $50 Fine. At 11 o'clock that night, shortly after her arrest, Mrs. Roberts appeared before City Recorder W. F. Heathman, pleaded guilty to a charge of being an occupant of a house of ill-repute and paid a fine of $50.

Later Mrs. Roberts asserted that she had been in the house only five minutes when the officers entered, that her visit was entirely innocent and that she pleaded guilty on advice of the detective, who assured her that by doing so publicity would be avoided. He volunteered a fictitious name for her.

After several weeks her attorney, Dan Nolan, Los Angeles, succeeded in getting the city recorder's docket cleared of the charge and plea, by having the case reopened

COUNTY'S FREE LIBRARY GAIN VAST, SHOWN

16,000 Volumes Added to System Since Its Inception Year Ago

Without a book today could you in a year and a month collect and index a library of 16,000 volumes? That is what Miss Margaret Livingston has done. She is librarian of the Orange county free library.

Just about a year and a month ago she came to Santa Ana and had things shifted around at the farm bureau office in order to make room for a small desk.

From that small desk the Orange county free library has grown and shot its branches into every corner of the county. Today there are twenty-four school libraries and seven town or community libraries served by the organization built in and about that desk. Orange county contains nine public libraries.

Has Several Aides. A year ago, Miss Livingston worked alone. Today she has several assistants made necessary by the beanstalk growth of the Orange county free library.

"There were many troubles during the early months of the library service that seemed tragic then. We laugh over them now," said Miss Livingston today.

"Quite often our little branch libraries had to close early because all the books had been taken out. Some readers were so eager for books that when no books were in, they would take back their old book and read it again."

Readers Get Latest. "Now our readers are getting the latest, many put in requests that catch the book coming off the publisher's press. We are reading everything from studied agricultural books to the lightest in modern fiction."

"We are interested in ancient and modern philosophies, but we are not afflicted by extreme 'isms'. Books of history and books contributed by men in the public eye are chief among requests of our readers."

Readers are our children backward in their reading. They are reading many interesting books on travel and adventure phrased in child language.

"They are observing children's book week, and drawing heavily on the resources of the library headquarters and its branches."

S. A. FIRST IN BIBLE STUDY CREDIT PLAN

System Instituted at Jr. High School Here Meets With Big Success

New honors have come to Santa Ana.

This city, it was learned today, is the only city west of the Rockies where Sunday school work is given credit in public schools.

At the same time, it was disclosed that the system of allowing school credits for Bible study is proving a remarkable success here, especially in the junior high school and that there is a possibility that the system may be extended to include the high school.

Statements as to the success of the movement were made late yesterday at the junior high school, where Bible study-for-credit-class teachers assembled at the call of H. G. Nelson, principal of the school, to report on the progress of the work.

The announcement of Santa Ana's advancement, in being the only city west of the Rockies in which Bible study credits are allowed in schools, was hailed with enthusiasm.

The consensus of the teachers was, that, in view of the success of the movement so far, it should be recommended that the work be instituted in the high school.

Nine Sunday schools of the city were represented at the meeting. It was found that enrollment in the classes where credit work is being given totals slightly more than 300 pupils.

This means, it was stated, that approximately half the junior high school pupils are taking Sunday school Bible study work in order to gain school credits.

It was reported that all of the classes were being conducted on strict rules, that attendance records were kept and that excuses for pupils' absences must emanate from the homes of the parents.

The teachers who were present, and the churches they represented, were:

Mrs. Stentrick, Reformed Presbyterian; Mrs. H. Evans and Mrs. P. Carlock, Richland Avenue Methodist; Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Parks, Church of the United Brethren; Mr. and Mrs. Laidnerbaugh, Calvin Lutheran; Mrs. Lucille Green and Miss Annie Anderson, First Presbyterian; Miss H. Thrasher, Miss Mary Lambie, Miss Arvilla Ball, Miss Flower and Miss Morris, First Methodist; Leon McMullan, Miss Lottie Sweet and Mrs. Cleveland, Spurgeon Memorial; Miss Campbell, United Presbyterian; Miss Irene Catland and A. A. Appling, First Baptist.

A. H. Theal, superintendent of the First Methodist Sunday school and chairman of the Bible credit work committee, was also among those present.

MORE MEMBERS IS GOAL OF FARM BODY

EL MODENA, Nov. 14.—With determination to increase the membership of the El Modena Farm Center to more than 100 persons, a diligent campaign was begun here this morning by a committee composed of Herbert Walker, Donald Smiley, W. F. Crist, Henry Campbell, Earl Campbell and E. Cummings.

The center's membership is now given as 80, and it is expected that with the close of the membership campaign at least 100 will have been registered.

At the banquet and meeting of the Farm Center last night in the El Modena school, more than 70 persons were present. The principal discussion of the evening centered around the advisability of taking up home demonstration. The members voted to form a home demonstration department in connection with the Farm Center.

Talks were given by Dan Loon, state federal farm loan advisor; A. Corey, on home demonstration work; and Earl Campbell, Orange county representative on the state farm center board.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—"Three keys open the door which leads to women's happiness—love, domestic interest and personal achievement," says Blanche Upright, the San Francisco novelist.

"Many modern women are trying to enter with just one pass key—personal achievement, without taking into consideration the importance of the first two. So we hear much about their restlessness and discontent," she continued.

"I am convinced that women will never find happiness in careers or professions if they select them as a substitute for homes, children and the normal interests of women. Women are essentially homemakers."

"Those brave women who go out to work that they may maintain or help maintain a home for those dependent upon them are greatly to be admired, but those who go into business just to avoid the responsibilities of being a wife and mother are storing up unhappiness later."

Follow Wrong Trail. "In my studies of women and types, I find that so many women try to find their happiness everywhere except where it is most easily found—in home life. They make the loss of a maid or the desire for things which they cannot have material for tragedy. They are so blinded by trivialities they cannot see the suffering beyond their own immediate vision, and the opportunity to help others."

Strike Duty Advertisements Lure In Bold Scheme, Claim

Armed with evidence gathered in Santa Ana, J. B. Fox, Los Angeles county deputy sheriff, today was preparing to strengthen the government's case against Harry Kling, alias W. C. Clark, charged with victimizing Orange county residents out of $6000 by alleged fraudulent use of the mails.

At the same time Kling was being held in Los Angeles, where he was unsuccessful in efforts to procure $2500 bonds, following his arraignment there before United States Commissioner Long, according to word received here.

Kling, who, according to Fox, has a wife and son in Santa Ana, is alleged to have inserted advertisements in the newspapers of Santa Ana and Anaheim during July and August calling for railroad guards for strike duty.

Respondents to the advertisements were numerous and each one deposited $25 or $50 with Kling to insure the job, according to Deputy Sheriff Fox.

Santa Ana Man Victim. W. E. Wells, 1401 East First street, Santa Ana, answered the advertisement, and when his suspicions were aroused by the long time he was kept waiting for his job, he complained to the Los Angeles authorities, Fox said.

Kling had established an office at 534 Chamber of Commerce building, Los Angeles, where, Fox says, Mrs. Harriet M. Hoffman posed as his secretary.

The Hoffman woman was arrested with Kling at a bungalow at 1223 East Fifty-eighth street, Los Angeles, last Sunday. At the time Kling was arraigned, Mrs. Hoffman was not prosecuted. Both have confessed, however, according to the authorities.

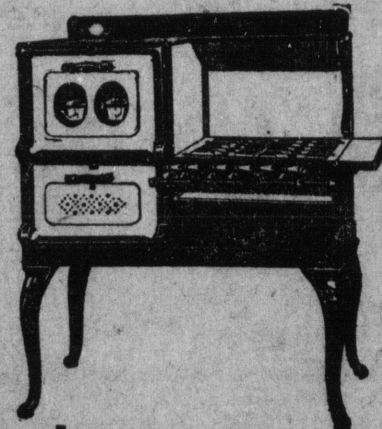

To insure the full prosecution of the case, Deputy Sheriff Fox requested that any person who answered or knows of any person who answered the classified advertisement in question get in touch with him at the sheriff's office at Los Angeles.

Rent Fraud Charged. In addition to charges filed against Kling and Mrs. Hoffman it is alleged that they victimized J. W. McCormack, president of the

HORSES BETTER DRAWING CARD THAN OPERA

(United Press Leased Wire) NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Fickle New York society has given grand opera the go-by in favor of a horse show.

By somebody's blunder, the grand opera season and the National Horse Show, both great events on the New York social calendar, were set to take place the same night. In the contest of drawing power, the horse show, staged in the Squadron A armory, won all the ribbons as far as the members of New York's upper strata were concerned.

The boxes at the armory reserved for the patrons and patronesses, the club members and the exhibitors were filled with the slim white shoulders and broad white fronts of the elect of society who are usually in evidence at the opera.

Society Section Vacant. As a result, Mrs. Maria Jeritza, the beautiful flax-haired Viennese opera star, made her formal bow as the new queen of American grand opera to an almost empty "diamond horse shoe."

This great semi-circle of stalls, which is ordinarily crowded with New York's bediamonded 400, was nothing but a dark, gaping cavern when Jeritza swept on the stage toward the end of the first act of Tosca. It was her first appearance as the successor of the famous Geraldine Farrar, who resigned at the end of last season. Not over a dozen persons were in the horse shoe when Jeritza came on.

But the remainder of the house was jammed. Hundreds were turned away. Every gallery seat was filled. Every square inch of standing room around the fringe of the great parquet was taken. Practically every orchestra seat was occupied. There was only that bare layer of dark empty stalls.

More Horse, Less Show. No 400 seats were vacant at the horse show however. The big bark pavilion had been decorated in a way that made it rival Madison Square Garden in the latter's youngest and gayest days. Only the diamond horseshoe was missing.

Those who went to watch and not to be watched were surprised to find that the affair is becoming more horse and less show. The boxes and member's section showed a thick sprinkling of whipcord and leather mixed with the emine and silk.

LOSE SEDAN? WHY NOT SEE IF THIS IS IT?

Sheriff C. E. Jackson has in custody, a nearly new large sedan, which he will turn over to anyone who can prove ownership, he announced today.

The machine, which had been driven less than 2,000 miles, was found abandoned near Bolsa Sunday, and was driven in to the county garage by Sheriff's men. Gus Ward, Bolsa, reported that it had been left at the roadside there.

Last week an expensive sedan, driven into the ditch and abandoned by two young men, who fled across the fields, was returned to its owner, H. Loerscher, Los Angeles, by Jackson, whose search resulted in the identification of the car.

A motorcycle, of recent manufacture, discovered near Garden Grove, by M. B. Allen, was awaiting an owner at the county garage today.

with pictures of Evelyn, she says. Conditions in the Lahm household became more and more serious until recently the wife says, her husband held daily seances with his ghostly visitor. He sought advice from the spirit, Mrs. Lahm charges, even neglected her and their child, also named Evelyn, to be with the spirit of his former love.

"I simply couldn't stand it any longer," said Mrs. Lahm, who has taken her daughter to her mother's house to live.

Consulted Spirits

Nothing could be done in the household, she said, unless Lahm first consulted the spirit. It got so she alleges, Lahm went to other women whose name was Evelyn, on the pretext that the spirit had guided him to them.

All these circumstances led Mrs. Lahm to seek recourse in the courts.

Lahm denies her charges. "None of it is true," he says.

That is as far as he will go, however, in explaining the alleged presence of the spirit of his former sweetheart.

Orange County Business college. Kling, according to the story, was employed to paint several houses owned by McCormack in Los Angeles. Working with the Hoffman woman, Kling advertised the houses for rent and collected several hundred dollars in rents before he completed the painting job, it is charged. Mrs. Hoffman posed as Mrs. McCormack and signed the rent receipts, Fox said.

Fox declared that when the Hoffman woman was arrested she said she intended to marry Kling. When she heard that Kling was married she became angered and confessed, according to Fox.

Ready To Testify

W. E. Wells, 111 North McClay street, today offered to testify against Kling.

Wells, he told Sheriff Jackson today, was one of the last to be victimized by Kling. He made the required deposit of $50, to cover the cost of a "gun, badge, handcuffs" and other equipment, giving a check in payment, he said.

Becoming suspicious, Wells hurried back to Santa Ana, hoping to stop payment on the check, but found that someone from the "agency" had already secured the cash.

When he next went to the office of the "employment agency," in the Chamber of Commerce building, Los Angeles, he found that Clark and Mrs. Hoffman had left.

THREE KEYS OPEN DOOR TO HAPPINESS

thought to women's problems. Her first novel, which is being dramatized and pictured this year, "The Valley of Content," was based upon the search for happiness. The novel which she is now finishing has to do with women's independence.

Her literary career began at the age of 5, when she dictated fairy tales to her nurse. At 10 she produced a six-act play, and when she was nicely started in her teens, she became associated with a San Francisco paper.

London Advised Her

She took her first piece of fiction to Jack London for criticism and he told her to go ahead and be famous.

The real ambition of her life is not literary success, but a large estate on the Hudson, to which she may take the little waifs she finds in the slums and give them a chance at a real home and some real mothering.

"Of course, for my fiction, I pick my types all over," she said, "but I find much more that touches my heart among the poor than in the ordinarily comfortable circles."

"I have made it my business to look for the good in people and I have never yet been disappointed."

"I have never known a woman who did not have a beautiful side to her character, no matter what her occupation or circumstances might be, nor have I ever found a child who did not respond to kindness and understanding."

Though her home on the Hudson is still a dream, she has already worked up a great acquaintance with the children of New York's East Side tenements and they are frequently entertained at her suite at the Hotel Astor and sent home happy with new clothes and toys.

Mrs. Upright herself is happily married and has a grown son.

Etchison, of the home; one son, G. W. Etchison of this city and an adopted daughter, Mrs. Thomas Hilliard of Kansas.

HOME DEMONSTRATION WORK MOVE APPROVED

Approval of the proposed county home demonstration work is growing daily, H. E. Wahlberg, farm advisor, said here today. The Costa Mesa farm center has gone on record for the work, he said, and the women of the center are ready to join in the membership campaign.

The Costa Mesa farm center endorsed the proposition at its meeting last Friday night, when C. E. Utt, Tustin, presented his report on the Orange county insular, and W. Dean Johnson gave an outline of his trip to Atlantic City, where he attended an insurance convention.

CYCLIST HURT BY CAR RECOVERING, REPORT

Selbano Villa, Delhi, was today recovering from bruises and minor injuries which he sustained when the bicycle on which he was riding was struck by an automobile operated by H. H. Becker.

According to a report made to police by Becker, the accident occurred near the intersection of Edinger and South Main streets late yesterday. The injured man was removed to his home.

An automobile owned by F. H. Daley, Anaheim, was damaged yesterday on West Fourth street, in a collision with an Excelsior Creamery truck, driven by F. Whitten. The Daley car was backing out from the curb, a report indicated, and was hit by the truck, the wheels of which became caught in the trolley tracks at that point.

When an unidentified automobile hit Joe Magana's automobile, the latter was forced into a ditch near Tustin, he told police today in reporting the accident. The Magana car was damaged, but the driver escaped injury.

and a formal trial held.

Testimony introduced convinced Recorder Heathman that an error had been made and he found the defendant not guilty, at the same time making profuse apologies for the arrest.

Money Not Refunded.

Mrs. Roberts' attorney demanded a return of the $50 paid as a fine. Suit for damages was threatened unless it was returned. The money never has been refunded.

Carrying out his threat, Nolan filed his suit, naming the city of Santa Ana and the two councilmen as defendants. Bishop filed a demurrer and it was sustained as to the city. Plaintiff was given ten days in which to amend, with Mitchell and Tubbs named as defendants.

It is understood that the complaint is made against the two members of the council because of belief on the part of plaintiff's attorney that they alone were responsible for employment of the detective who directed the raid.

the Secret of making perfect Cakes and Pies

To get your cakes light, and your pie crusts crisp and flaky, you need the best shortening.

Mazola is an absolutely pure vegetable oil, free from moisture. It is more economical to use than butter or lard. If your recipe calls for, say, a cup of butter or lard, use only $\frac{3}{4}$ of a cup of Mazola.

Mazola makes the crispiest and most delicate pie crusts and the lightest cake you ever tasted.

But Mazola is equally good for all cooking purposes. Many of the best judges of salad oil prefer Mazola to even imported olive oil—it is so pure and wholesome, and blends so perfectly with your other ingredients.

Your grocer has Mazola in pint, quart, half-gallon and gallon cans. The larger sizes are most economical.

WAS A BROKEN-DOWN WOMAN

Then I Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicines

Donaldsonville, La.—"I write with pleasure to praise your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—which has done so much to restore my health. I was a broken-down woman until my husband brought me a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier. I had been having pains every month and at intervals between, was weak and seemed to be smothering at times, but in a week I felt like another woman. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. It did me a lot of good too. I cannot praise your medicines too much and will be more than glad to recommend them to any woman who is suffering from female troubles. You may print my testimonial, as it is true."—Mrs. T. A. LANDRY, 612 Miss. St., Donaldsonville, La.

Note Mrs. Landry's words—"as it is true." Every letter recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is genuine. It is a statement telling the merits of these medicines just as the women in your own neighborhood tell each other.

Restrictions Proposed On Entry Of Members In Laguna Art League

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 14.—The Laguna Beach Art association, which, heretofore, has been allowed to grow unrestrained by membership regulations further than the requirement of one dollar, until it has an enrollment of more than four hundred members scattered over the United States and in several foreign countries, has become such an unwieldy organization that a revision of the constitution has become necessary. At the regular monthly meeting held at the art gallery Monday night, it was proposed by Anna A. Hille, president of the association, that the distinction between artist and laymen be more clearly defined, that it be incorporated in the constitution, that the membership be made to include six kinds, namely, active, associate sustaining, honorary life and junior. It was also asked that applicants for active membership be required to submit three works of art to be passed upon by a jury.

Definite action will be taken in the matter at the next regular meeting of the Art association, it was said.

The interest of the Laguna Beach members of the Art association is centered at present on the reception to be held at St. Ann's Inn Tuesday evening, November 28, and a fine collection of pictures is being assembled to take the place of those now on display at the Inn.

Hill G. Rider, chairman of the Laguna Beach Art association membership campaign, reported at the meeting of the association Monday evening that one hundred and thirty-six new members had been secured during October.

Belden remained in Canada for a final moose hunt, and is expected to arrive in Laguna Beach next week.

ITALIAN STEAMSHIP ASKS HELP IN GALE

(United Press Leased Wire) BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 14.—The Italian steamship Monte Grappa is in distress several hundred miles off the New England coast, according to distress signals picked up by the wireless stations here today.

The steamer's captain said she was listing dangerously in a heavy sea.

The liner Pittsburg was steaming under full speed to the assistance of the Grappa.

Marine experts here, lacking details of the vessel's plight, believed she had sprung a leak in one of the North Atlantic gales of the past week.

A message from the Pittsburg indicated the big liner had reached the scene and was standing by the Grappa.

The Pittsburg messaged she had the situation in hand and would need no more assistance.

The French steamship Galkantry also picked up the Grappa's s.o.s. calls, according to the message.

NEW AUTO INDUSTRY BEGINS. WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 14.—Another automobile industry has located in Canada. The Paige-Detroit Motor Car company has opened a branch in Windsor. For the past five years Paige sales have been growing steadily in Canada, and with the coming of the Jewett light-six, built by the same company, Canadian business shows every indication of requiring a Canadian plant to take care of it.

EDITOR TO INSIST ON COURT HEARING

(United Press Leased Wire) EMPORIA, Kansas, Nov. 14.—William Allen White, exponent of law and order, will go to trial here a week from today on a charge of disobeying his brain child, the Kansas industrial court, he declared today.

Governor Allen, who personally ordered the arrest of White, his political pal, for posting a sympathy placard in the recent shopmen's strike, "is too good a sport to quit this case now," the author of "Henry and Me," declared today.

"I don't mind arrest," the Emporia sage said. "I don't mind conviction. I don't mind even going to jail to prove to the people of Kansas what kind of a law they are carrying on their books, but I would not like to rest for life under the suspicion of faking up a case that means nothing and gets nowhere just for a little notoriety."

PLACE LOSS IN OIL FIRE AT $2,000,000

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 14.—Two huge earthen tanks of the Gulf Pipe Line company in the Humble oil fields near here, ablaze since Sunday, were burning themselves out today and officials expressed the belief that the fire would be extinguished within another twenty-four hours.

Practically all of the $20,000 barrels of oil in the two reservoirs has been destroyed. The loss will be around $2,000,000, officials estimated today.

CITY FATHERS WARNED DISMAL FUTURE AHEAD FOR SEAL BEACH HOME

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 14.—Warning that with the tide of progress sweeping Seal Beach, pushing before it nominal property costs, the city should purchase a city hall site before prices become prohibitive, today were being seriously studied by members of the city council and citizens, following a dramatic appeal to the board by "Billie" Templeman.

Templeman appeared before the council in its last meeting and laid bare facts confronting the city with regard to its future headquarters of regime. It was pointed out that the present building, which is leased from month to month, may some day be denied the city's use, with the result that the town's fathers must meet in "an alley or wherever the patience of indignant citizens would permit."

The council took no action on the plea.

Throughout the week, it is the hope of Miss McFadden that in addition to stimulating interest in reading and the possession of books among children, it also will draw the attention of the parent to children's books.

Display tables in the library present a showing of illustrated books and many volumes of interest to parents and children alike.

STARS OF TURF ON WAY TO TIA JUANA

(United Press Leased Wire) SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 14.—The greatest consignment of thoroughbred horses that ever crossed the continent, representing over $200,000 in value, is nearing its goal and with good luck should arrive at Tia Juana, Mexico, Thursday for the 100 day race meet which opens Thanksgiving Day.

Should the "Coffroth" special not encounter any delay en route it is expected to establish a record for time in the transcontinental run from Baltimore, Md., to San Diego.

Railroad officials are doing their utmost to expedite the movement of the train bringing the horses of Commander J. K. L. Ross, John Rossiter, Harry Payne Whitney, A. C. Bostwick, George P. Fuller and others, and also the country's best jockeys.

MRS. BALDWIN GIVES UP CALIF. FOR N. Y.

(United Press Leased Wire) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Anita Baldwin, daughter and one of the heirs of the late E. J. "Lucky" Baldwin, picturesque California multi-millionaire, is to move to New York city, she announced here today.

Her famous kennels and stock farm at Santa Anita, near Los Angeles, will be sold and she will reside in the East so her son, B. M. Baldwin, can finish college and then take up music, she said. The boy, now aged 19 and a student at the University of California, is proficient on the saxophone.

NEW PAPER TOWN STARTED.

GRANBROOK, B. C., Nov. 14.—The newest town in British Columbia is McNab, the site of the Wigwam Pulp and Paper Co. It is six miles south of Elk. The company is starting almost at once on construction of its first unit costing $3,500,000. The ultimate aim is a four unit plant, each with 100 tons capacity of newsprint per day. It is said there is enough pulp in sight to assure operations on a very large scale for 80 years.

GOLD PRODUCTION IS BIG.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 14.—It is estimated that from 1912 to the end of 1922, $107,006,073 have been produced in gold from the Porcupine, Kirkland Lake and other fields in northern Ontario. While 53.14 per cent of that has been produced by the Hollinger company, 14.12 per cent has come from Dome Mines, and nearly 13 per cent from McIntyre. It is pertinent to emphasize that Kirkland Lake, to the end of 1922, notwithstanding delays in development and the small mills, will have produced three times as much gold as was reported for the whole of the province of Ontario prior to 1912.

ROMANCE OPEN FOR TOTS IN BOOK WEEK

How long since you read "Robinson Crusoe," "Treasure Island," or "The Leatherstocking Tales?"

Today offers you the opportunity to become reacquainted with those choice volumes, because this is children's book week.

Today was the day at the Santa Ana library reserved by Miss Jeanette McFadden, librarian, for boys' books. Boy Scout book and books generally intended for boys were being featured today.

Tomorrow will bring forth a display of girls' books. It will be called Camp Fire Girls' day.

Tiny tots just having a glorious time with c-a-t spells "cat," will have the library to themselves Friday.

Throughout the week, it is the hope of Miss McFadden that in addition to stimulating interest in reading and the possession of books among children, it also will draw the attention of the parent to children's books.

Display tables in the library present a showing of illustrated books and many volumes of interest to parents and children alike.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 14.—Coming here from Long Beach, D. S. McDaniels, a photographer, has opened a studio on Walnut street, near Third, and contemplates much business in the Oil City. He plans to move his family here as soon as he can find a suitable home.

The Lions club will go to Anaheim tonight to assist in their Charter night. Four Crosby buses have been engaged, and a big "roar" is expected.

Evangelistic services will be held for two weeks in the First Baptist Church, beginning next Sunday. Special music and preaching will be featured.

BANK OPENING DELAYED

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 14.—It is now practically certain that the new bank building will not be ready so that business may begin on November 18, as was planned. The work is progressing as rapidly as possible, but no chances are being taken of having a bum job in the finishings.

OIL WORKER INJURED

ANAHEIM, Nov. 14.—Edward Depweg, 127 South Philadelphia street, was in the local sanitarium today, suffering from injuries received in an accident at an oil well at Huntington Beach last night. He was employed there with the Downey Oil company. It was found at the hospital here that he was suffering from a fractured arm and other less serious injuries.

DR. DANIEL G. CAREY, OF ELMIRA, N. Y., EMINENT KIDNEY SPECIALIST, RETIRES

Leaves His Famous Prescription, No. 777, Known For Years as "Marshroot," to the World. Says It Has Helped Thousands.

A brilliant physician, a diligent student and, above all, a man of great intellect, he made the study of these diseases his life's work.

During his forty years of constant practice Dr. Daniel G. Carey devoted almost his entire life to the study of this most important branch of medicine and his success, as is well known, was almost phenomenal.

If Dr. Carey never did anything else in his long, praiseworthy career but originate his famous Prescription No. 777, his fame would live long after his useful life had ended.

Watch the symptoms was Dr. Carey's advice. The tiniest signals often indicate that the kidneys are ailing and need attention. Dry skin, for instance, and little specks floating before the eyes. Sometimes the feet feel heavy as if the shoes were full of lead. Often the joints ache or you have quick, darting pains shooting through the back or side. Then again that frequent desire to empty the bladder, cold clammy feet and just a little puffiness under the eyes. Occasionally the hands or feet swell slightly and the palms of the hands are moist. Don't neglect them—you cannot afford to take any chances with your kidneys.

If you ever have the faintest suspicion that your kidneys are weak or your bladder is irritated the wisest thing you can do it to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Prescription No. 777 at once. Many thousands of cases could have been helped by Marshroot if taken in time.

Hereafter you can always get this effective prescription at reliable pharmacists the country over. Keep in mind the name, Dr. Carey's Prescription No. 777. No other medicine can take its place.

Stocks, Markets and Financial News

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Although foreign exchanges were irregular, the speculative community could not stretch its imagination far enough to attribute today's further break in stocks to the talk of "Europe is nearer a military conflict than at any time since the World War."

Selling pressure was decidedly less in evidence during the morning hours, but around noon renewed weakness was precipitated in the whole list by an abrupt decline in Consolidated Gas and by a general attack on the rail group.

The market closed lower. Closing prices included: U. S. Steel 103 3/4, off 1-1/2; Republic 46 1/8, off 1 7/8; Bethlehem B. 66 7/8, off 1-1/2; Baldwin 121 3/4, off 3 1/4; American Locomotive 120 3/4, off 2; Mexican Petroleum 210, off 1 1/2; Consolidated Gas 129 3/4, off 4 1/2; Corn Products 124 3/4, off 7-8; American Smelter 53 1/2, off 1 7/8; Canadian Pacific 140 3/4, off 1-1/2; Erie 11, off 1 1/8; New York Central 89, off 3/4; Southern Pacific 89 1/2, off 1 1/2; Great Northern preferred 85 3/4, off 1 1/4.

LETUCE IS WEAKER ON S. F. MARKETS (United Press Leased Wire) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The lettuce market is exhibiting a weaker tone. Good Sacramento lettuce has been selling from $3 to $3.25 per crate but was moving slowly today. Local lettuce of fair quality is selling from $1.25 to $1.50 per crate. Southern lettuce was offered at $2.50 to $2.75 per crate and another car is said to have reached the city today.

Several chests of raspberries were received today but the quality was generally poor and drawers were in little demand at 40 to 50 cents each. Practically all of the summer squash is coming from southern points and small lugs are selling from $2 to $2.35 each. Southern Bell Peppers are selling from 8 to 10 cents per pound. A few boxes of French endive were offered at 60 to 65 cents per pound. Artichokes are firmer, due largely to the fact that shipments are being made regularly to eastern points. Best are selling from $13 to $20 per lug.

There is not a great deal of activity in poultry. Some dealers are of the opinion that a very small percentage of the turkey crop will be ready for the Thanksgiving demand and present conditions point toward a very firm market for that reason. Supplies light. Pineapples, grapes, fruit, oranges, plums, lemons, peaches, berries, cabbage, peas, beans, summer squash, cauliflower, rhubarb, cantaloupes, eggplants. Supplies liberal: Bananas, figs, apples, grapes, potatoes, tomatoes, celery, onions, lettuce, spinach.

TIMBER FIRM BUYS LAND PORT ARTHUR, Ontario, Nov. 14.—Announcement has been made of the purchase of 66,500 acres of timber and surface rights on Isle Royale from the Island Copper company by the Minnesota Forest Products company, of Duluth. It is stated that development work will commence at once, the Island Copper company to work the copper properties and the Minnesota company to take the timber. There is a large quantity of pulpwood, cedar, birch and maple, the latter being of excellent quality, and which may be used for veneer. Wire rope, so far as known, was made first in Germany about 1821.

GOLD VEIN OPENED UP. BAKERVILLE, B. C., Nov. 14.—A vein of gold-bearing quartz, 14 feet wide, has been opened up on Lowhee Mountain. Another find is reported between Upper Cunningham and Harvey Creeks. The latter is a quartz ledge 60 feet wide. The making of wine antedates history.

Lost— Interest on 21 Million Dollars

The United States Treasury Department called Victory 3 3/4% Notes on June 15. Interest stopped on that date. On July 31, a month and a half after that date, there were $21,000,000 of these notes which had not been presented for payment.

The loss of interest on these called Victory Notes amounted to over $2,000 a day.

Investors whose security lists are filed with Blyth, Witter & Co. were immediately notified that these notes had been called, and had an opportunity to redeem them long before the interest stopped.

Other bond issues are being called daily. Perhaps you are holding securities that have been redeemed, and which no longer bear interest. You help prevent such loss by filing a list of your investments with us. Send it in today giving amount you own, name of security, coupon rate, maturity and price you paid.

The Sweetest Story Ever Told

(Chapter I)

I AM YOUR FAVORITE NECESSITY

I am the oldest sweet thing known in history.

In ages past, adventurous Spaniards bundled up a part of me and took me on a long trip.

Although I did not know it at the time, I was being moved to a new home, which I later found to be Cuba.

Warmed by the genial rays of the tropical sun, my children and their children's children grew to greatness and came to rule the whole world with their sweetness.

I still rule from my castles in Cuba, and Hawaii, but I am moving my headquarters to Panama, whose soil is the richest in the world.

I thrive on rich warm soil where the heavens bless me with the sparkling quench for my everlasting thirst.

Since Uncle Sam built the great Panama Canal however, my dream of Paradise is about to be realized.

And surely Paradise is the right descriptive word, for in Panama I can become twice as prosperous as in Cuba and Hawaii.

In the early 50's your great-grandfather and his family only suffered my presence because I was a necessity. Your father however, and his little fireside group, found out that I was rather likable—to say the least—and gave me a much warmer welcome.

Today, my popularity is fast assuming enormous proportions. And just think for 1 1/2 cents per pound I am now growing and refining in the province of Chiriqui, Panama. I have been one of the safest and greatest of dividend payers, having paid millions in dividends to shrewd investor friends who are responsible for my growth and progress.

The American Panama Development Company of California, is the organization building my new home in Panama.

They are showing more sincere interest in my welfare right now, than any other concern in the world.

Meyer and Gorman are the Santa Ana representatives, 412 Spurgeon Bldg.

I heartily invite you to ask them why they have shown such interest—why I am so popular in their eyes—why they think my future to be the most amazing one of all the world's commodities.

They will be glad to tell you all about me.

ORANGE COUNTY NEWS

ORANGE, Nov. 14.—Penniless, foot sore, suffering from slight brain concussion, H. J. Horikoshi, Japanese, Los Angeles, was found wandering in the streets in a dazed condition at Olive yesterday—three days after the Oriental was struck down by an automobile between Fullerton and Anaheim, it was learned here today.

Horikoshi, who four days ago, set out to walk to Elsinore to seek employment at the Hotel Armstrong, where he was formerly engaged as a gardener, was found wandering about aimlessly at Olive by Charles Wallace, who brought him to the local police station.

The Oriental was later removed to the county hospital where an examination disclosed that he was suffering from slight brain concussion. A slight abrasion was also found over the right eye.

According to his story to local police, Horikoshi was struck by an automobile near Anaheim.

The machine failed to halt to render aid and the Oriental lay on the roadside unconscious for many hours.

Since then he got as far as Olive where he was seen last night. He spent the night in an old barn.

This morning he was forced to give an inexpensive stick pin as payment for a meal, it was said.

The Nipponese declared he had been staying at the Methodist mission at Los Angeles.

He is being held at the county hospital pending his recovery.

Try Dentomel first for pyorrhea

Perhaps you had your teeth cleaned by a dentist only a few months ago. But although the work was thoroughly done the dentist may have warned you that he could not guarantee that the Pyorrhea would not return.

It is because DENTOMEL—the new marvel for the treatment of Pyorrhea—is still new that all dentists everywhere have not yet had time to prove its remarkable merit.

If your gums have grown soft and the teeth are loosening again, before paying the dentist another expensive visit get from your druggist a bottle of

DENTOMEL

Made from Fresh Lemons

and try it. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if it fails to (1) remove every trace of Pyorrhea, (2) harden the gums and stop any bleeding and (3) tighten any loosened teeth and whiten them perfectly.

Surely if DENTOMEL will save you many dollars in constant dentist's bills you cannot afford to ignore this offer.

Missionaries in Kangkei Write Home Folks of Rare Incidents

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 13.—Interesting incidents in a far-away land known intimately to only few, and experiences befalling those engaged in missionary work among lesser civilized peoples, is graphically portrayed in excerpts from letters received by Mrs. O. B. Byram, of Westminster.

The letters, written by her son, Roy M. Byram, American Presbyterian missionary at Kangkei, Chosen, Korea, and by the Rev. Archibald Campbell, another missionary in that field, were forwarded to Mrs. Byram from the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church, New York.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Byram are engaged as medical missionaries in the station at Kangkei.

Generous Chief Cited.

"At one of our smaller groups in lower Kangkei county, there was an old lady who had no family, but was cared for by the church people."

"Last spring she was called to her Eternal Home, and the church gave her a funeral. The chief of police of the place saw the funeral as it passed and asked whose it was. He was told that it was that of an old lady who had no family, but had been kept by the Christians, who also supplied the funeral."

"To think," he said, "that those people who have no money would do such a generous thing as this, when even we who have authority don't do it? They are surely worthy people. Where is their church?"

"He was told that had no church but were meeting in the house of one of the deacons. He had the church leaders called in and after commending them, asked why they had no church building. They replied:

"We have been wanting to build, but have found no site, and since we are poor we haven't money enough subscribed to pay the tax on the wood and put up the building."

Gives Land for Church.

"Come with me," he said, "and after leading them outside and pointing to the fields lying close to the county office, 'pick out your church site you like. Then go up yonder hill and cut whatever trees you want and hurry up and build a good church building.'"

"I passed by this place and found them building their church. (Rev.) Archibald Campbell."

"The medical work has gone forward, and the hospital is about full. Pneumonia still takes its toll. A few days ago the Japanese postmaster brought in his little twin girls, aged about three months. Both had pneumonia. One died, but the other is getting along nicely. The same day two post office employees came for treatment."

ORANGE, Nov. 14.—Charged with a grave offense against a 13-year-old local girl, Jake Harris, 22, said to be an employee of a local lumber yard, today was being held in the city jail awaiting arraignment.

Harris was arrested by City Marshal M. E. Jamieson and Night Officer C. W. Pulley early Saturday night—less than a half hour after the youth is alleged to have attacked the young girl at her home here.

While the girl's parents were absent, operating a business establishment in this city, the youth is said to have called at the home inquiring for another person known to the girl.

When told that she was not aware of that party's movements, the youth, police were apprized, forced his way through the door, past the girl and into the room.

Theaters

May McAvoy, who is in cast of "Clarence," film now showing at the West End theater. Wallace Reid and Agnes Ayres also appear in the picture.

"CLARENCE" SCORES HIT AT WEST END THEATER

If you can visualize a man who is a crook, a domestic happiness expert, a former mule driver, who doesn't cuss and still is a man, then you have a fairly good mental picture of "Clarence," whose exploits form the basis of the Paramount picture of the same name now showing at the West End theater. But even with this mental picture you have not been told of the straggly hair of Clarence, nor of his huge tortoise-shell spectacles and lots of other idiosyncrasies which help make him an unforgettable figure, in this production.

Above all else, Clarence is an extremely likable chap, and all because he happens into the Wheeler family just in time to prevent the family breaking up. Barking and biting has set the nerves of each member on edge and the inevitable is about to happen, when along comes Clarence, and with a calm word here, a soft caress there and a clever display of diplomacy and tact at all times, he rebuilds the tottering house of cards into a mansion of peace and happiness.

Just how Clarence does this cannot be adequately described for there is a subtle something to it which defies description. Booth Tarkington, however, saw it and wrote it into the famous play from which the picture was adapted. As "Clarence," Wallace Reid has never done anything which quite equals his droll humor and likability in this part. He receives excellent support from Agnes Ayres as Violet Pinney, while May McAvoy makes a sparkling success in the sub-deb role of Cora Wheeler.

COST FORTUNE TO FILM "THE STORM"

The Feather River canyon is a beauty spot of California that is not well known to the public.

Trails leading into it are practically impassable much of the time. It has not yet become a rendezvous for motoring tourists, although it contains scenery equal to any valley of its type in the western part of the United States. It is a picturesque wilderness.

It cost a small fortune to take the Universal unit making "The Storm"—Langdon McCormick's famous play—into the heart of the Feather River district. All the mechanical equipment and props, several big truckloads of it, had to be portaged over part of the trail, floated on a rough stream and even carried piecemeal on mules' backs.

"The Storm" brings House Peters in a starring role to the Yost theater tomorrow, Thursday and Friday. It is a Universal-Jewel production with a cast of stellar importance in support of Peters.

Matt Moore and Virginia Valli are the other two figures of a unique triangle in which Peters impersonates an honest, primitive woodsman, Josef Swickard, Frank Lanning and Gordon McGee handle lesser roles.

When Viola Dana, the little motion picture star who is to be seen tonight and tomorrow at the Princess theater in "They Like 'Em Rough," tried to reduce recently—she bumps the scales clear up to 100 pounds—a diet of cucumbers, a banishing of butter from bread and cream from tea for a period of two weeks proved its efficacy by sending her weight up to 103 pounds.

"They Like 'Em Rough" is a Metro picture, a Harry Beaumont production from the story and scenario by Rex Taylor.

LEE, IMAN BATTLE STIRS FIGHT BUGS

Delhi Card Tomorrow Night Loks to Be Best of Ellis' Season

Figuring things out on dope and past performances of boxers, Promoter Boyd Ellis has arranged just about the best card of the season for the patrons of his Delhi arena tomorrow night.

He has four big fellows for his slashing, slugging bees that the lustful demand and he has matched a couple of little speed demons for the semi-windup. Three other good bouts are on tap as preliminaries.

Seldom has a bout attracted more attention than that Jack Iman-Harry Lee card of the double main event. There is no question but that Lee has improved wonderfully in the short time that he has taken up the ring game. For a big fellow he is fast. He packs a pretty mean wallop as well.

Iman has been aching for a chance to get in the Delhi ring and prove to the doubting Thomases

GRID FANS BELIEVE POLY OUT OF SLUMP

Snapping out of their lethargy today, Coach Marvin Morrison's Santa Ana high school grid men were beginning to wonder what that fracas here last Saturday with "Pinky" Griffin's Pasadena Bulldogs was all about.

Pitted against just about as strong an eleven as it will match up with this year, bar none, the Santa Ana team simply forgot all the football that Morrison has been trying to instill in it all season.

The locals played ragged football. They offered feeble resistance to forward passes and didn't do much better when Downs, Coffeen and Dagley were hammering at the line early in the game.

The general consensus of opinion among sport fans was that Santa Ana was in the throes of a bad slump and were lucky to keep the score as low as it did. "That defeat was the best thing that could have happened to the team," one grid follower declared. "It showed the team that it is not invincible. From now on watch 'em go."

Morrison's men face a hard week of practice after that affair Saturday. The local men probably will get more than one afternoon of practice on defense against forward passes.

Anaheim high school comes here next Saturday for a league fray with Santa Ana but the locals now are pointing ahead to that session with Fullerton which will determine the winner of the Orange league. The Pasadena defeat had no bearing on the chances of the locals to get into the semi-finals for the Southern California championship.

Anaheim has a good little aggregation and should be able to make the fracas quite interesting. The Mother Colony out played Orange to a standstill and lost only because its line failed to hold on kicks. The Orange team scored two of its three touchdowns on blocked punts. The final score of the game was 13 to 6.

Morrison is expected to do a little shifting in his line this week. Stillens, who was kept out of the Pasadena tilt because of a bad leg, is in good condition again and the chances are that the big fellow will be moved from center to one of the tackles. Linsenbard played pretty well Saturday at center and may keep his job.

WRESTLERS PREPARE FOR MATCH TONIGHT

CONGRESSMAN SWING AIDS DISTRIBUTION OF GOVERNMENT SEED

While Congressman Phil D. Swing believes that the government ought not to supply free seeds, nevertheless, since it does supply them, he is desirous of aiding in their distribution to those who may seek them. A letter from him to The Register says:

"I was opposed to the expenditure by the government of $360,000 for free seed because I thought that amount of money could be put to better purpose or else saved to the taxpayers. Congress decided otherwise, however, and I accordingly have now been assigned my quota for distribution within my district. I will be glad to send to any of my constituents who request it, such vegetable and flower seed as I have so long as my supply lasts. "Those desiring seed should address Congressman Phil D. Swing, House Office Building, Washington, D. C."

HARVARD, PRINCETON NOT TO BREAK, CLAIM

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 14.—Talk of Harvard and Princeton reaching the parting of the ways is "the direct result of loose talk by individuals of each college," The Harvard Crimson said editorially. "Harvard and Princeton have too much in common, their horizon is too large to be obscured by one small cloud."

JAKE SCHAEFER WINS FIRST TOURNEY PLAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Jake Schaefer, world's billiard champion, opened the world's championship tournament at the Pennsylvania Hotel last night by defeating Erich Hagelacher, German champion, 500 to 238 in a 17 inning game.

Jack Iman, local boy, who mixes with Harry Lee, the Huntington Beach lifeguard-boxer, in one part of the double main event at Delhi tomorrow night.

that he hasn't slipped. The Santa Ana boy will give away more than ten pounds when he faces the husky Huntington Beach lifeguard but he is confident that he can stop Lee's sensational rush up the four-round ladder.

Matlock Meets Kelly

Leo Matlock, the husky Oakland boy, faces a tough man in Tom Kelly, whom many believed should have had at least a draw with Kid Mexico two weeks ago. Kelly is far the faster of the two and the fact that Matlock meets Young George in the main go at Vernon tonight won't help his chances much. There are many who pick Kelly to hand Matlock a drubbing.

To many fans the return of Kid Louie, the classy little Placentia 113-pounder, will prove a source of satisfaction. Louie always has been a favorite at Delhi. He digs in and scraps all the time. There isn't a dull minute when he is in the ring and none of the clinging vine stuff.

Louie will tackle a boy named Johnny O'Brien, from Kansas City, Mo., who knows his eggs, according to word from Tommy McFarland, who took the bantam into his stable with high recommendations.

Louie's former sparring partner, Toby Montoya, and Young Monroe, that game little southpaw, clash in a re-match. Montoya fights much like Louie and he has improved remarkably in the past few months. Monroe doesn't know much, but he carries a jolt in that left mitt that had Montoya backing away in their first battle.

Burrell To Scrap
Dios Burrell, local boy, has been getting himself in condition for another fling at the ring game. Burrell will take on Joe McGill, a boy from Los Angeles. The Santa Ana boy has a deceptive way of coming in at his opponent and he always is popular with the bugs.

The entire populace of Wintersburg will be on hand to see its pride, Battling Doty, make his Delhi debut against Joe Riley, Los Angeles. Doty, according to his backers, has been showing lots of stuff in his workouts. Riley also is a newcomer to local fans.

RETURN FROM INDIA.

LA HABRA, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Grover McClain and children have just returned from Tatanagar, Bengal, India, where they spent two years, and are guests at the N. H. Garretson home. They will remain here until McClain arrives in March from India, where he is general superintendent of steel mills under the McClintic Marshall-Products company of Pittsburgh.

The Register's Gridiron History Of Santa Ana High School Teams

Season of 1897 Auspicious in That Eleven Had School's First Coach, James Nourse, Now a Well Known Eastern Newspaperman; Locals Trimmed Riverside High Here 6 to 0

The season of 1897 opened auspiciously for no other reason than that the local high school team had a coach. James R. Nourse, graduate of Santa Ana high school, had graduated from Stanford University the previous June, and had a job as reporter on a local paper. Nourse soon afterward went to San Francisco where he proceeded to climb in the newspaper world, within a short time becoming city editor of the San Francisco Examiner. In the past year or two he has been in charge of the Hearst news bureau at Washington, D. C., his signed articles often appearing in the Hearst papers.

Nourse put a lot of teamwork ideas into the heads of his players and the success of the season was doubtless largely due to his coaching.

Practice was held on the grounds on Stafford street between Mortimer and Lacy. Class and other games, with the exception of that against Riverside high school, were played there. The Riverside game was played on the old bicycle racing grounds on North Main street.

3 Veterans Return
The effect of coaching can be judged when it is pointed out that of the team of the previous year only three remained in school. They were John McFadden, quarterback and Ted Stephenson, who was tackle on the 1896 team and was transferred to half for the new team, and Bob Northcross, who graduated the spring previous but who was back in school as a post graduate. But Nourse had a fast, aggressive bunch of second team men to work with, from which came the backbone of the team that in the following year wiped up everything it played, including Pomona college.

The game against Riverside resulted in a Santa Ana victory, 6 to 4. In view of the 20 to 0 score that was made by Occidental College two years before and the 22 to 0 score made by San Bernardino high the year before, the victory over Riverside was a distinct relief in local high school circles. The Santa Ana line-up for that game was about as follows: Center, Ross Waffie; guards, Packard, now a dentist in Los Angeles, and Tom Hossler, who was killed two or three years later in a fall while at work on a telephone pole; tackles, Herbert W. Walker, who is now an orchardist at McPherson, and Bayard Nourse, now with the coast fire underwriters in San Francisco, a brother of the coach; ends, Tabor, who moved away from here years ago, Tom Hill, now in concrete work here, Bert Patton, now a Santa Ana dentist, and Nelms Northcross, now in Mississippi; quarter, John McFadden, who died about two years ago here; half, J. Fred Parsons, now proprietor of Parsons Drug store here, and Terry E. Stephenson, of The Register, full, Bob Northcross, John Yount, a substitute quarter, and Leo Brock got into the game in the backfield.

George W. Dryer, now an attorney in Los Angeles, was manager of the team.

Play Villa Park
Up at Villa Park a group of young huskies had been playing a good deal of practice football, and were ready for a game with the local high school. Not more than two or three of the Villa Park team had ever played. Among them were two former high school players, Hugh Day, the Villa Park captain, having been with the high school's first team in 1893, and W. B. Williams, now cashier of the first National bank, having been guard for the two previous years at Santa Ana high.

The Villa Park team was defeated in a hard fought game on the Stafford street grounds.

M'GRAW FIGURES TO WIN ANOTHER TITLE

Giant Pilot Believes Club Will Be Stronger Next Year Than Last

BY HENRY L. FARREL

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—While he doesn't put it in so many words, John McGraw has a sneaking notion that he's going to drive his New York Giants to another National league pennant—maybe to another world's championship.

"My club looks very much better than it did this time last year," McGraw says. "It will be recalled that his 'last year's' club won the pennant and made the Yankees look like bushers in the world series."

"Last winter we had Douglas and Toney, two uncertainties, on the pitching staff and now we have Scott and McQuillan, two dependable pitchers, in their places. I expect much next season from my young pitchers. Jonnard probably will be a regular and young Johnson and Blume are most promising," McGraw said.

"Naturally we are expecting much of Bentley and there is no reason why a player of his ability should not make good in fast company."

McGraw said he would start Jimmy O'Connell, his $75,000 San Francisco star, as a regular in center field.

"I want the boy to know that he's going to get every chance from me to make good. He is in no danger of losing his job even if he doesn't start off like a million-dollar. He's young and it may take him some time to get adjusted to his new surroundings," he said.

DOBLE STEAM CAR ON DEMONSTRATION IN SANTA ANA

The Doble Steam Car will be on Demonstration

Wednesday, November 15th at 113 No. Main St., 9 a. m. to 2 p. m.

The Doble Steam Car is the most sensational motor car in the whole history of the motor car industry.

In building the Doble Car, Abner Doble has eliminated all the "bugs" of the steam cars of former years. He has built a car without a clutch, without transmission gears, without a drive shaft and universal joints. The Doble Car has no pilot light, no scale to remove, no frequent stops for water, no racing motor, no carbon to remove, no valves to grind, no oil pump to fail. The Doble Car has no self starter—a simple turn of the switch and advance the throttle and this marvelous car is G-O-N-E.

In its action the Doble Car is as smooth as a bird, as powerful as a locomotive and so flexible that it leaps from one to sixty miles an hour in a few seconds.

In a word the Doble Car is so simple, so flexible, so powerful, so silent, so durable so far superior to any other automobile that a new set of standards is necessary to gauge its worthiness.

Be absolutely sure that you see the Doble Steam Car in action

Wednesday, November 15th at 113 No. Main St., 9 a. m. to 2 p. m.

THE PROBLEM OF THE CROOK

William Allan Pinkerton, famed detective, says criminals of today are mentally far inferior to the old-time master minds of crime.

What the modern criminal lacks in intelligence, compared with the crooks of a generation ago, he generally makes up in a willingness, to commit murder without hesitation, says Pinkerton.

The old-time crook usually shot only as a last resort.

Today every big city has a breed of crooks who will kill as quickly and indifferently as the fictional bad man of early days in the west.

Murder and a crook's willingness to "bump off" his victim have become the foremost criminal problems.

In the old days when a footpad usually used a blackjack or a piece of lead pipe, his victim had a chance. Today the pistol has taken the place of blackjack and lead pipe.

The average modern crook is a coward unless he has a pistol and cocaine or some other drug to create in him the false courage necessary to make him use his "gat."

Control of the drug traffic and an absolute prohibition of pistols are necessary before crime can be restrained on a big scale. Make it impossible for crooks to get pistols and drugs, and crime news will become dull.

A SKY-SCRAPER CHURCH

The first skyscraper church in the world is to be erected in Chicago. The cornerstone has just been laid. The towering building, situated in the heart of the business district, was referred to by a speaker as "a symbol of how religion should vitalize and permeate all our affairs."

The lower part of the building will be devoted to church purposes, the upper stories to offices for all sorts of church, welfare and charitable enterprises. The structure is directly a Methodist venture, but is to act as a center for furthering Christian activities generally.

Chicago is very proud of this new church which will rise in the midst of commerce and throw its shadow across the city hall and administrative offices. It may be that the citizens think it is really something new in church location. But how many small communities have the same thing—the churches bordering on the central village green, their slender spires pointing to the skies and their shadows falling across the town hall and the general store?

The skyscraper may fit the needs and ideals of a great city. It is hoped it will have as potent an influence upon the temporal affairs of Chicago as the little church in its similar strategic situation has had for generations in smaller towns.

"Time to sit still and go slow" is the motto of the new British premier. Now we suppose the London newspapers are getting out extra editions every few minutes about "Amazing Absence of Sensation" and "All About Nothing Doing."

AN ALASKAN FISH RESERVE

A government fisheries reservation has been set aside in Alaska by executive order. The action was necessary to prevent the destruction of the salmon fisheries. The reservation will be continued, with its wholesome check upon fishing in the areas covered, until permanent legislation can be secured to control the situation.

In these rich salmon fields a food supply valued at $35,000,000 a year is produced. Properly safeguarded, it will hold its own indefinitely. With the indiscriminate fishing now practiced it might be wiped out in a few years.

The United States has had a number of experiences in relation to extermination. A few years ago we thought that the supply of salmon was inexhaustible. We know better now. We know that unless salmon are conserved, the industry will be ruined. The time for starting a program of conservation is now.

The Hohenzollerns have taken their money out of Swiss banks and transferred it to Sweden and Holland, fearing taxation. It's getting so that royal fortunes, like royal personages, have nowhere to lay their heads.

A COMMUNIST CONVENTION

An interesting gathering is to be held in Moscow. It is the fourth annual congress of the "Third Internationale," the great communistic body devoted to the overturning of all other forms of government by revolution, violent if necessary. Delegates from many nations, the United States included, will attend.

Chief among the topics to be discussed is the outlook for a world-wide revolution and the unification of all communistic parties for this end. Lenin will address the assembly, and so will Trotsky, minister of war. It is noteworthy that these officials are in friendly touch with the gathering, though they have affirmed repeatedly that the Soviet government has sundered all connection with the Internationale.

Of course there is little immediate danger of a world-wide radical revolution. But the incident bears its warning. The spirit of radicalism is still to be reckoned with and those who stand for sound government and orderly progress must be on guard.

Now the powers have to talk Turkey to Turkey again.

CANADA COMES BACK

Canada is now compensated for the loss and humiliation occasioned for two or three years by the heavy odds against her in exchange rates. She has turned the tables handsomely on Uncle Sam. From a big discount, her money has risen to a premium. The resentment felt by Canadian travelers in the United States until recently is now transferred to American travelers in Canada. Americans are not accustomed, anywhere, to having their dollars discounted, even though it be only 1 per cent or less as against nearly 20 per cent that Canadians lost for a time on American transactions.

This is largely a triumph of Canadian thrift and conservatism. The Canadians, government and people alike, have carried their war burdens, and lightened them, by a policy of hard work and drastic economy in expenditures. They have "lived at home," importing as little as possible while the exchange rate ran against them. The United States has contributed rather liberally, though unintentionally, to their revival, buying larger quantities of goods than usual in Canada and spending large sums there in vacation travel. Canadian loans obtained from this country are given credit, too, for the changed status.

There is no reason for dissatisfaction or alarm on the part of the United States. The exchange rate will not go much below par, or remain there long. This country may well congratulate Canada on her good fortune and rejoice in having so thrifty and progressive a neighbor. Canada normally is our best business customer, and may be expected to continue so hereafter, and the stronger her credit grows the better customer she will be.

SMALL BANK DEPOSITS

It is sound advice that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has been giving to banks on the subject of small deposits. It is a mistake, he says, for banking institutions to refuse to accept accounts of less than $100, as many do, particularly in the larger cities.

The secretary speaks from experience. The problem was threshed out in his own bank in Pittsburgh. It was proved that the small accounts were desirable, because they cost little to handle over and above the inevitable overhead expense, and because while they showed no profit in themselves, many of them grew into large and profitable accounts.

The matter is worth considering, too, from the other side. Many a potential depositor refrains from opening a checking or savings account because he thinks it isn't worth while with the little money he has available at the time. It is very much worth while to start an account, however humbly, because of what it may grow into when the banking habit is formed.

"Drive slow; you might meet a fool" reads a road sign. It's worth remembering.

Warwicking a Bit

San Bernardino Sun
If the elder statesmen and best minds of the Republic met, nationally, were to be assembled this morning and asked whom they would name as the Republican nominee for the Presidency in 1924 we suspect there would be small difference of opinion. There might be some grinning, it would be unpleasant for some of them, but they would cast a rather unanimous ballot for Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California. Something may happen in the twenty months intervening between this present and the date of the assembling of the national convention in June, 1924, to change that program, but it is not likely. It is a decision forced by the inexorable logic of events, and it's a poor politician who quarrels with such adamant facts. When the Washington correspondent of the Los Angeles Times is permitted to say in that paper that, following the Democratic cyclone of last Tuesday, among the Republican presidential possibilities remaining in the field is Senator Johnson of California, and he is mentioned first, it would be conceded that there is nothing else to be said, or the Times would have said it. True, there are some other "possibilities" mentioned, but they are not more than possibilities.

Nobody would have suspected as much prior to Tuesday—not even Senator Johnson's closest friends and warmest admirers at least here in California. We had supposed the country was fairly well satisfied with a Republican rule and Harding as President, for California is reasonably prosperous and therefore contented. But there was an awful awakening Tuesday night when we read the returns. The country is not satisfied and is not contented, and just as, out of its discontent it turned the Democracy adrift in 1920, with 7,000,000 majority against it, out of the same or a similar discontent it turned on the Republicans in 1922 and only missed robbing them of control of the legislative department of the government by the turning of a hair. Which is why Republican leaders are already looking for the champion who can meet the situation in 1924, and unless the next 18 months shall witness a business revival of unusual scope and dimensions, Mr. Harding will hardly ask for a renomination. He is not to blame for the fact that there has been a railroad strike and a coal strike and the business paralysis that inevitably marked the reconstruction period, but he and his administrations are the victims of it. The vote shows nothing else.

The natural course under such conditions would be to look for a leader among those Republicans who have been classed as more progressive than Mr. Harding, but here another surprise awaits. For nearly all of them were buried in the wreckage with the exception of Senator Johnson, whom the East is already studying in the light of a majority of 300,000, and wondering what manner of man is this Californian who, when almost all others failed, emerges with a stronger endorsement from his home constituency than ever before.

It is bootless to thresh over old straw now. It is true that six years at Washington have made Senator Johnson something more of a conservative than he was when he was California's governor, or when he joined in the Bull Moose movement that between irreconcilables on both sides, wrecked the publicanism in 1912. But it is also true that he is still recognized as standing for those progressive principles and theories of government that even "regulars" and conservatives and standpatters, find more acceptable upon closer study and acquaintance and that are more and more in demand in government, while his upstanding and forthright Americanism and his championship of the right of America to keep out of foreign entanglements and European politics has made him such a commanding figure that it is only natural that Republicans should now turn to the California senator as the man of the hour.

Called to Extra Session

Padena Star-News
President Harding, as was expected, has called congress to convene in an extraordinary session on Monday, November 20. While the specific purpose is not mentioned in the President's call, it is known that he is desirous of having ship subsidy legislation enacted and to have appropriation bills acted upon by the sixty-seventh congress. It is to provide additional time for this work that congress is called together two weeks earlier than the constitutional date for its assembling.

President Harding has his heart set upon obtaining legislation to relieve the anomalous situation with reference to relief for merchant shipping. But his program has been opposed strenuously even among Republican members of congress. In view of the results of the November elections, it is probable that the majority in congress will proceed cautiously in such important matter as this. Indeed, opponents of the projected legislation may succeed in blocking it and in preventing enactment of any merchant-marine law before March 4, when the life of this congress expires, by constitutional limitation.

It is realized by President Harding and administration leaders that the sixty-eighth congress will be a thorn in the side of the administration and that Mr. Harding must fight vigorously during the next two years, to get legislation to his liking, owing to the narrow margin of Republican lead in the house and senate, and the inevitable insurgency that is to be expected from independent groups.

We Surely Have Our Worries, But--

What is Selfishness?

GOLD medals are being pinned on various corporation executives, for their good work in the Safety First movement.

A specially large medal should be struck off for that powerful force, Human Selfishness. For selfishness is back of the Safety First movement, just as it is back of most other human activities.

Corporations originally began campaigns against accidents not primarily to save human life, but to save themselves against damage suits arising from the list of killed and injured.

The humane motive is more existent now. Incidentally, corporations have discovered that $1 spent in preventing accidents often pays back $100 in lower accident claims. The safety movement is profitable, so it'll go on, as a simple matter of investment, long after all of us are dead.

IN analyzing a situation or a suggestion of any sort a clear comprehension of the matter is more quickly arrived at by remembering that 99 times out of 100 some one is seeking a profit.

When pulley wheels had spokes, people occasionally got caught in them and were either killed or crippled. Some one invented a solid fly-wheel, without spokes. It is easy to sell, on the simple argument that it will save human life and limb. But the selfish element crops out in the invention and manufacture of the improved, safeguarded wheel—for profit, a selfish motive.

So it goes, all the way from a politician seeking office, down to the simple transaction of borrowing a lawnmower.

THE presence of a selfish motive in nearly every possible situation and proposal should not make anyone cynical.

The very fact that the backers of the "thing" are after a profit makes its success more certain.

Men do those things best, in which they have a chance to profit personally. It is the old law of achievement, working toward a definite goal—harvesting the crop from toil.

The profit sought by the force of selfishness, of course, is not always money. It may be fame or the inner satisfaction in having accomplished a good deed.

In connection with this article, let us not get too narrow a meaning of the word "selfish." The word has come to be a synonym for mean or contemptible. In the broader sense, it means looking after one's self, and certainly this would be a sad world if people didn't look after themselves. That is no reason, however, why they shouldn't look after other people as well as themselves. Through selfishness in seeking legitimate business profit, men are enabled to be big-hearted in countless other ways.

Worth While Verse

CALIBAN IN THE COAL MINES

God, we don't like to complain
We know that the mine is no lark,
But—there's the pools from the rain;
But—there's the cold and the dark.

God, you don't know what it is
You, in your well-lighted sky
Watching the meteors whiz;
Warm, with the sun always by.

God, if you had but the moon
Stuck in your cap for a lamp
Even you'd tire of it soon,
Down in the dark and the damp.

Nothing but blackness above
And nothing that moves but the cars
God, if you wish for our love
Fling us a hand full of stars!

Farmer's Opportunity

Professor Robert McFall in Farm Life.

The time is certainly at hand when this nation will eat as much food as it produces. Any further increase in demand which will surely come with enlarging industry and expanding city populations will give our farmers a better market for their products. It is very unlikely that the numbers of people engaged in farming will increase as rapidly as will the national population. We know that the enlargement of our good farming area has its limitations.

The possibilities of imports of foodstuffs are fully as limited. Other nations are ahead of us in looking for outside food resources, and these outside sources are limited. In other words, the demand for home-produced food is almost certain to tend to expand faster than the supply. That is a happier outlook for the farmers than for the city people.

No amount of increase of demand will make every farmer prosperous, nor will it make good crops and high prices every year. There will always be up and downs and there will always be some who fail to succeed. Year in and year out, however, the progressive farmers should be glad in the future that they did not give up the land. Their business chances should be fully as good as the city man's.

One thing, however, American agriculture must learn: If this nation is going to eat more food than it produces, the first job of our farmers is to study home market.

The real demand for our food will not be in foreign trade. Home consumption will be the demand to which the farm will cater and those who study this home demand most carefully will reap the best profits.

HEALTH

Something About How to Keep Well.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Science is marshaling her legions for a nation-wide attack upon mankind's most bitter enemy in which you are asked to join.

The common foe is cancer. This is the disease which last year killed over 100,000 adults past the age of 35 in the United States. Cancer more than all the casualties suffered by the A. E. F. during two years of warfare.

To cancer is attributed the highest death rate in the country next to tuberculosis. In many states it takes the greatest toll of human life.

These facts are announced by Dr. James E. Rush, field officer for the American society for the control of cancer, the organization under whose auspices National Cancer week will be staged during the week of November 12 to 18, all over the country.

"Cancer in its early and non-malignant stages is absolutely curable providing competent medical aid is solicited and proper treatment instituted in time," Dr. Rush says.

"The great and sole danger with cancer lies in procrastination. It must be checked only through surgical or X-ray treatments at the start."

"The purpose of National Cancer week is preventive rather than curative. It seeks to warn the public in time so that sufferers can be saved if they take heed before the time is too late."

"The disease has properly been named death's greatest ally. That is because it gives no warning associated with pain of its approach, thereby making it doubly dangerous."

"Its victims are grown adults cut down in the prime of life when the community can spare them least."

"Cancer kills one woman out of every eight, and one man out of every fourteen."

"From 1900 to 1920, according to U. S. mortality statistics, the death rate from cancer increased 20 per cent."

"It is time for the public to realize that all this slaughter of useful lives is avoidable. It is largely due to ignorance and can be appreciably lessened through education."

Adventures of The Twins

Jack O'Lantern's Grief

By Olive Roberts Barton

Nick picked up poor Jack O'Lantern's head, where it lay beside the barn, and put it on his broomstick body.

"Oh, thank you," remarked Jack O'Lantern, gratefully. "I was just saying to my friend the turkey gobbler, that I couldn't understand the world. It's a queer place!" And he sighed loudly.

"What's the matter?" asked Nancy kindly. "You look so huffy with that nice smile on your face."

"Well, I'm not," answered Jack O'Lantern. "Last week I was the most popular person in the country round about. Every night I had an adventure with the children. We had dress-up parties and parades and taffy-pulls and all sorts of merry-making and I was right in the middle of it all. Every body wanted to carry me and the only way they could settle it was to take turns. Why, one night I was even the guest of honor at dinner. I was right in the middle of the table with a row of red apples around me and a fine light inside. "Then suddenly next morning I was thrown away, so to speak. Mistress carried me out here and nobody has looked at me since. Turkey Gobbler gets all the attention now."

"Never mind," said Nick kindly. "Perhaps Turkey Gobbler has his troubles, too. Other folks besides you are in danger of losing their heads. Don't you know why you are forgotten? Because Halloween is over and won't come for another year."

Suddenly Nancy remembered her errand. "We are searching for Mother Goose's broom," she said. "Did you see it, Jack O'Lantern?"

"I don't think—" began Jack O'Lantern, when suddenly he turned pale. "Do you s'pose I'm wearing it?" he gasped. "Do you s'pose my broomstick body can be it?"
